BEACH CLUB GOES UNDER NEW RULE

Los Angeles Athletic Takes Over Reins of Santa Monica Organization

Operation of the Santa Monica Athletic Club by the Los Angeles Athletic Club under the amalgamation plan approved by the members Tuesday night began yesterday. The new method of control gives to the Santa Monica club members transferable memberships in the Los Angeles Athletic Club and the Pacific Coast Club at Long Beach.

Members of the Santa Monica organization found after six or seven years of operation by a volunteer board of directors that this system was very difficult, officials said yesterday. After a thorough investigation, the club decided to affiliate with the Los Angeles institution because it offered all of the present privileges and more with none of the responsibilities of management, they declared.

The Santa Monica club has 550 members, of which number 280 are owning members who approved the merger by a practically unanimous vote, it is reported. Various other clubs in the Santa Monica Bay district sought an affiliation with the Los Angeles Athletic Club, but this club was selected because of its good financial condition and the fact that it owned its own property, officials stated. The Santa Monica Athletic Club is the oldest organization of its kind on the bay district ocean front.

Smoke Rumpus Flares Again in City Council

The biennial rumpus over smoking in the Council chamber almost got started off yesterday, and then died out suddenly. Councilman Martin started it by declaring that he detected certain individuals indulging in tobacco, and he wanted it stopped.

"Move we suspend Rule 15," said Councilman Davis, this being the rule prohibiting smoking.

Up jumped Councilman Jacobson and thrust in his oar by saying that he doesn't "care a snap" about smoking, but if there is going to be smoking, let the Council omit the rule against it, etc., etc., etc.

The Council then went back to its regular calendar.

HIS HONOR GETS OWN FACTOTUM

Council Approves "Outside Man" for Porter

New Job at $325 a Month Noncivil Service

Mayor Will Steer Clear of City Hall Today

The new secretary to the Mayor, authorized by the City Council action yesterday, will be a confidential man on the outside to make personal investigation, Mayor Porter said yesterday. He declined to announce the identity of the appointee pending official notification of the Council's action. The position will pay $325 a month and is exempt from civil service. It is in addition to the Mayor's private secretary, the post now held by Lee Porter, Tom Murchison, the executive secretary, and the two assistant secretaries.

"There is so much that comes to the desk of the Mayor which I cannot look after personally," said Mayor Porter, "therefore I asked for this additional man who can investigate these matters."

Mayor Porter got down to the routine of his office yesterday by signing a few ordinances. He pared down the ordinance appropriating $2000 for floodlighting the City Hall during the Elks' convention by $500, and sent it back to the Council.

"SEVERAL" RESIGN

He has received "several" resignations of commissioners, in line with his suggestion that all commissioners leave office, but declined, as is his policy, to give out any information as to the identity of those who have offered to quit. He had no information to give concerning appointees or policies.

Today he will dedicate a building and spend the remainder of the day with Mrs. Porter, who still is suffering from injuries sustained in an automobile accident. He will avoid the City Hall, which will be closed for the holiday.

His anterooms still were crowded yesterday, as they were Monday and Tuesday. Most well-wishers already have appeared and the place practically is given over to those who are suspected of seeking jobs.

Late Tuesday Dist.-Atty. Fitts visited Mayor Porter and the two held a long conference, the announced result being offers and agreements to work in harmony.

NEW PROCEDURE

Instead of adopting the routine procedure in asking for the outside secretary, Mayor Porter is declared to have given the communication directly to President Sanborn.

The matter was brought in by Councilman Cooke as chairman of the Finance Committee. Councilman Ingram pointed out, however, that the procedure was wrong, as it should come in a joint report including the Efficiency and Personnel Committee.

Whereupon Randall immediately leaped to the defense of Mayor Porter, declaring that as chief executive he should be entitled to his requests.

Ingram replied that he only wanted the thing done in an orderly manner, Councilman Davis suggested that the Efficiency and Personnel Committee could concur immediately by signing the report, which was effected, and the great rebellion suspected by Randall died out at once.

Learn-to-Swim Campaign Will Start Monday

The second annual Boys' Learn-to-Swim campaign for all grammar school boys between the ages of 11 and 17 years, will open at the Y.M.C.A., 715 South Hope street, next Monday under the direction of Coach George W. Cadwallader, according to announcement of the physical department. There will be no fee nor membership requirement.

During the campaign it is planned to throw the large, tile pool of the downtown branch open to the use of the boys.

Last year, in the various branches of the Los Angeles Y.M.C.A., approximately 400 boys were taught to swim.

ENDURANCE FLYERS HIT FOG

Los Angeles Pair Narrowly Escape Disaster from Delay in Refueling Plane

Fog closed in on the airplane endurance flyers Loren W. Mendell and R. B. Reinhart as they completed their final food and fuel contact over Culver City Airport last night in preparation for remaining aloft through nine hours of darkness in their attempt to break the world's endurance record.

The flyers had kept their Buhl Airsedan aloft forty-one hours at 12:30 o'clock this morning. The two pilots dropped notes at their field headquarters reporting their chances are good to lengthen the world's record of 172h. 32m. 1s., held by Reg Robbins and Jim Kelly of Fort Worth, Tex.

DISASTER AVERTED

In order to break the record the flyers will have to stay in the air until 12:01:31 next Tuesday. They took off at 7:29:30 a.m. last Tuesday.

The flight nearly came to an abrupt end when the "Angeleno's gasoline supply dwindled to only a few gallons shortly after dawn yesterday.

An unidentified man telephoned the airport and told the flight ground crew that he had picked up a message in Hollywood from Mendell and Reinhart on which they had scribbled that their fuel was nearly gone.

As the ground crew rushed out to warm up the "nurse" plane the Buhl swooped low over the airport to attract attention to the flyers' plight and drop a note. The biplane roared down out of the fog and barely missed a line of telephone poles, obscured by fog.

The refueling plane's motor refused to take so Francis Durfee and Carroll Stump jumped into a little Monocoupe, placed a five-gallon can of gas on their laps and took off to find the Buhl in the mist. They said they could see only 200 feet in any direction, but they located the larger plane and angled the can of fuel down to Reinhart on the end of a forty-foot rope.

FUELED JUST IN TIME

Just as Reinhart poured the gas in the Buhl's tank the Whirlwind sputtered—out of gas. But a few jerks on the gas pump and the motor took hold again. The refueling Carrier Pigeon plane was in readiness by that time and climbed up to a successful contact with the Buhl above the fog.

John G. Dahlquist and His Children

"KIDNAPING" STARTS MIX-UP

Police Called in as Peacemakers in Family Row When Professor Seizes His Children

Los Angeles police yesterday attempted to act as peacemakers in the home of John Gutenberg Dahlquist, former professor in a Copenhagen (Denmark) college, and at a late hour last night conferences in the family were being held to that end.

It all began early yesterday morning when Dahlquist, accompanied by W. L. Hagenbaugh, went to his home at 1222½ Myra street and took his three children, John, 5 years of age; Gritie, 3, and Paula, 2, away from their caretaker, Mrs. F. E. Coolley, 1224 Myra street, loaded them into his automobile and started for Pasadena, where he said he planned to board a train for Boston.

W. L. HAGENBAUGH

J. S. Wilson, 2414 Dunsmuir street, witnessed the "abduction" and gave chase, notifying Motorcycle Officer Knepp, when he encountered the officer on Sunset Boulevard, near Bonnie Brae.

At the City Prosecutor's office a kidnaping complaint was refused, and Detective Lieutenant Allen, head of the missing-persons bureau, decided to try to effect a reconciliation.

Capt. S. H. J. Clark, next-door neighbor of Mrs. Dahlquist, sought and was refused a battery complaint against Dahlquist. Clark charged that Mrs. Cooley was injured when Dahlquist snatched the youngest child from her arms.

According to police reports, Dahlquist, now being sued for divorce after a year's separation from his wife, went to her home Monday and took the children. A search by police proved fruitless. Tuesday night Dahlquist called Father Vaughn of St. Patrick's Catholic Church on Central avenue, and was prevailed upon by the priest to return the children. Yesterday, however, he apparently regretted his move and again took possession of the children.

A restraining order to prevent Dahlquist from taking the children out of the State will be sought by the mother if the scheduled peace conferences fail, police said.

HUNTINGTON ART LIBRARY FAVOR GAINS

Total of 11,658 Persons at Institution During June With Busy July Likely

The Henry E. Huntington Library and Art Gallery was visited by 11,658 persons during June, it was announced yesterday at the exhibitions office. This is an average of 507 visitors for each of the twenty-three exhibition days.

A large number of visitors during June were Southern Californians, renewing their acquaintance with some particular interest in the art collections, the library exhibition or the gardens.

Continued study is developing a widespread appreciation of the exhibitions among visitors who go often. The average visitor now is admitted in much shorter time than formerly. This is because of better co-operation of visitors in making their requests and improvements in the routine of admissions.

July promises to be a busy month in the exhibitions, because of the arrival of summer tourists. Those applying for cards at once, requesting the earliest available date except Sundays, can be received within two weeks. The exhibitions will be closed during September for the annual renovation. Visitors are reminded that a self-addressed, stamped envelope should accompany each request.

George H. Fish's Rites Tomorrow

Funeral rites for George H. Fish, president of the Hollywood Auto Transfer and Storage Company, who died Monday, will be conducted at 10 a.m. tomorrow at the W. M. Strother chapel, 6240 Hollywood Boulevard. Interment will be in Forest Lawn Mausoleum.

Mr. Fish, who was 69 years of age, came to Los Angeles fifteen years ago from Cleveland. His home was at 671 Crenshaw Boulevard. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge, Club Casa del Mar and the Brentwood Country Club. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Jasmine Fish, and a daughter, Virginia.

LONG NUPTIAL CAREER WILL BE CELEBRATED

Sixty-two years of married life will be celebrated today by Mr. and Mrs. George Ellett, who journeyed here from San Diego with their daughter, Mrs. L. S. Husband, to spend the day with Mrs. C. W. Stem, a daughter, at 958 Martel avenue. A family dinner, at which two of the three children born of the marriage will be present, will mark the passing of the anniversary.

LOSER GRINS AND WINNER WEEPS

Howard, Sentenced to Hang for Cooley Murder, Smiles; W. J. Grant, Freed of Manslaughter Charge, Sobs; "It's Funny World," Remarks Bailiff

It may have been an anomaly, or a paradox, or just plain human nature.

Or a psychologist, no doubt, could analyze the whole situation and give one an accurate, scientific treatise on just what occurred within the minds, hearts and nervous systems of those two men.

But to a layman visitor to two of the courts in the Hall of Justice yesterday just one conclusion could present itself: that human emotions sometimes are most peculiar in the manner in which they manifest themselves.

For in one of those courts a man who lost everything smiled, while in the other room a man who had everything to smile about wept.

The man who lost is John L. Howard, sentenced to hang for the murder last April* of Victor A. Cooley, Pasadena automobile man. He is the man who smiled, just a faint smile to be sure, but one that lingered about his lips while the judge pronounced the words that placed him in the shadow of the gallows at San Quentin.

And William J. Grant, the man who won, is the one who wept. His body shaken by audible sobs, Grant had to be supported by a friend as he walked from the courtroom following his acquittal on a manslaughter charge.

One of the court bailiffs sums it up this way:

GIRL ENTERS DAVIS CASE; GRAND JURY CLEARS PIKE

Bribery Charges Declared to be Frame-up

Milton Pike was declared not guilty of the charges brought against him by Harold L. (Buddy) Davis, former chief deputy District Attorney, in an open statement issued by the grand jury yesterday and his entrapment and arrest were declared a "frame-up," by Foreman De Garmo.

The findings of the grand jury, which has been investigating the charge that Pike accepted a bribe to give false testimony, were reported to Dist.-Atty. Fitts, who immediately requested the dismissal of the Davis complaint and the release of Pike from the County Jail.

PIKE LEAVES JAIL

The motion of the District Attorney was granted by Municipal Judge Ambrose, and a few minutes later Pike walked from the jail absolved of all guilt in connection with the case.

Indications that other actions on the matter are under consideration by the jury was seen in the letter from Foreman De Garmo to Fitts which said:

"The grand jury, on the request of Harold L. Davis and the office of the District Attorney, has fully and thoroughly heard all the available testimony in the matter of the arrest of Milton Pike, a State's witness, in the case of People vs. Davis, including the testimony of Mr. Davis and witnesses suggested by him, and other witnesses who had knowledge of the facts.

"After deliberating on all of the testimony, this jury has concluded that Mr. Pike is not guilty of the crime with which he is charged by Mr. Davis before Judge Ballard, and we therefore respectfully request you to dismiss the charge against Milton Pike.

FURTHER ACTION DUE

"We shall deliberate further on the submitted testimony as to what, if any, action we desire to take in the premises under all the facts and circumstances in this case.

"This conclusion represents the indpendent and unanimous judgement of the members of the grand jury."

Foreman De Garmo elaborated on the formal letter after the session of the jury, and intimated that some official moves may be expected in the case when the body convenes next Tuesday. He declined to say that further indictments are under consideration, but said that there are legal points involved in the investigation that will be taken up.

"We have come to the unanimous conclusion that the Pike arrest was a frame-up," the jury foreman dclared, after discussing the testimony of witnesses and the letter to the District Attorney.

FITTS STATEMENT BRIEF

Fitts issued the following statement after receipt of the grand jury's decision:

"This office requested the grand jury to make a thorough and completely independent investigation into this matter. The jury, after such independent investigation, has arrived at its decision. I have no further comment to make."

Action on the dismissal of the complaint, which was filed against Pike by Davis in the court of Municipal Judge Ballard, was of short duration.

Fitts appeared before Judge Ambrose and presented the original grand jury letter. "I make a motion that the complaint against Milton Pike be dismissed on the statement of the grand jury," Fitts announced. The court read the document and inquired as to the status of Pike. He was informed that the defendant was in the custody of the jailer. "Motion granted to dismiss in the matter of Milton Pike on the statement and motion of the District Attorney," said the court, directing that an order of release be delivered to the sheriff.

PIKE EXPECTED RELEASE

After his release Pike said that the action of the grand jury in requesting a dismissal and declaring him not guilty of the charge was what he had expected. He has con-

Using Fund for Woman Denied by Getzoff

About one hour of testimony which is to be given by four witnesses will end the State's case against Harold L. (Buddy) Davis on trial in Superior Judge Wilson's court on charges of bribery connected with the Julian stock-fraud trials. The conclusion of the prosecuting testimony will come during the morning session tomorrow. There will be no session of court today.

This announcement came last night from Chief Deputy District Attorney Stewart, who, with Dep. Dist.-Atty. Simpson, is in charge of the case and at the close of a court day filled with sensations, amazing charges, and startling testimony by Ben Getzoff, Spring-street tailor, pay-off man and confessed fixer.

STEALING CHARGED

"You stole this money from Ed Rosenberg and instead of using it as a bribe with which to buy Harold Davis squandered it on a woman you have been supporting."

This charge shouted by Chief Defense Counsel D'Orr at Getzoff while conducting the cross-examination of the State's star witness rocked the courtroom during the late afternoon session.

And before the amazed spectators recovered from the shock D'Orr pointed to the rear of the courtroom, where Attorney Reynolds of the defense staff appeared leading a pretty young woman and shouted, "Do you know this woman?"

Getzoff, who had been testifying for several hours, swayed on the witness stand, shook and trembled and then yelled back his answer.

It was, "No."

The woman was later identified as Estelle Johnson, living at 512 South Park View avenue. At her home last night she denied knowing Getzoff.

GETZOFF QUESTIONED

D'Orr shot question after question into the record regarding Getzoff's asserted acquaintance with the woman.

"Didn't you buy her an automobile?" he questioned.

"How much of the money you got from Ed Rosenberg did you spend on jewelry for this woman?" D'Orr shot at Getzoff.

One after another question after after question regarding the woman were hurled at the witness. Most of them were objected to by prosecutio nand the objections were sustained by the court, but in many instances Getzoff got out his answer before the court ruled. They were all denials.

GETZOFF COLLAPSES

The first sensation of the day came when Getzoff collapsed in the District Attorney's office before court and had to be carried to the witness stand. Unable to sit up, the former Spring-street tailor, now on probation following his conviction on bribery charges along with former Dist.-Atty. Keyes and Ed Rosenberg, was unable to testify.

With the jury not yet in the box Stewart informed the court of the affair and asked that the case go over until 2 o'clock. The motion was not protested by the defense and Getzoff who appeared to be getting worse, was carried, muttering and mumbling, into the judge's chambers and physicians called.

"Complete nervous collapse due to fright," was what Dr. Benjamin Blank, County Jail physician and Dr. Charles W. Decker, called by the District Attorney's office, said about Getzoff's condition.

The almost-unconscious man with his son David at his side was placed in a wheel chair by Assistant Chief Investigator Blayney Mathews of the District Attorney's office and removed from the court room.

HE DROOPS AGAIN

He was kept under the physicians' care until 2 o'clock and then again assisted to the court. So weak and feeble did the witness appear that for a time it seemed that the entire case would have to be put over for the rest of the week.

As D'Orr swung into his cross-examination Getzoff seemed to brighten, however, and until the woman charge was hurled at him,

BANK MERGER CANCELED

Pacific National and Bank of Commerce Heads Resign from Holding Company Board

Consolidation of the Pacific National Bank and the National Bank of Commerce, approved by stockholders of both institutions June 7, last, and scheduled to become effective the 15th inst., has been canceled, and Thomas A. Morrissey, president of the Pacific National, and Erle M. Leaf, president of the National Bank of Commerce, have resigned from the board of the Pacific National Company along with five other directors.

Other directors of the Pacific National Company who tendered their resignations are Charles S. Jones, James S. Cheek, James M. O'Brien, Stephen P. Veselich and L. M. Lockhart.

Mr. Morrissey made the announcement of the resignations late last night and in a formal statement said he and the others named were not in accord with certain of the policies of the Pacific National Company. No more explicit information was divulged. The other directors involved agreed not to comment on the situation.

THREE DIRECTORS REMAIN

The Pacific National Company is the holding organization controlling the Pacific National Bank and four other smaller banking institutions in Los Angeles, and one at Hermosa Beach. E. M. Smith is chairman of the board. The three other directors who remain on the board include Frederick Swensen, president of the company; James E. Long and T. J. Crumpton.

Had the merger of the two banks been consummated the Pacific National Company would have held 55 per cent of the stock of the new institution. Total resources of the various units now controlled by the Pacific National Company exceed $25,000,000.

Resources of the National Bank of Commerce are in the neighborhood of $6,000,000 and resources of the Pacific National Bank exceed $13,000,000.

Veselich and Leaf are directors on the board of National Bank of Commerce, while Mr. Morrissey is the only one of those resigned who is a director of the Pacific National Bank.

RUMORED FOR YEAR

Negotiations for the consolidation of the two banks have been in progress and rumored for nearly a year. Stockholders of both institu-

MRS. MAY SUTTON BUNDY, twenty-five years after her first tennis triumphs at Wimbledon, celebrated the anniversary by walloping the tar out of the brilliant young near-champion, Eileen Bennett.

CAN'T LICK MAY

I know what happened as well as though I had been sitting in the grand stand. I saw her do the same thing years ago to Hazel Hotchkiss Wrightman. Before meeting Miss Bennett Mrs. Bundy had been trailed in the dust of the French courts; and she decided that it was about enough. When that "about-enough" expression comes into her eyes, something has to drop.

Mrs. Bundy has never been an especially heady or brilliant player, but she has a will to win that is Napoleonic. She wins because she can't be licked.

THE DECLINE OF BASEBALL

They can split the season into so many sections that it looks like a kindergarten map puzzle. It will do the baseball magnates no good whatever. The only thing that will help baseball is interesting personalities. Coast baseball went into a decline when Hap Hogan died. Babe Ruth keeps it alive in the East.

PHONEY FIGHTS

Reformers need not lose any sleep about prize fighting. It is dying a dog's death. Another bad-smelling fight in San Francisco has been added to the list of bad smells.

The one ambition inflating the soul of every fighter in these days is to safeguard the dough by fighting as little and as tamely as possible. The champions pick out "set-ups;" and the set-up very wisely runs for his life. Most modern contests should by rights be staged on a sprinting track. They ought to do away with the accustomed bell and use a starter's gun.

AUTO MASSACRES

There is no use fooling ourselves about it; automobile accidents are getting worse. I doubt whether there is one person reading this column who does not number among his friends the victim of a fatality.

There isn't any law that can be passed to remedy the situation much. The speed with which the cars tear through the streets is simply frightful; but statistics show that most of the bad accidents happen at twenty-five or thirty miles an hour.

The real trouble is that about four-fifths of the people driving cars are not fitted temperamentally for the responsibility of handling an engine. Their motor nerves are not hooked up for emergencies. All you can do is to carry a good life insurance—and a rabbit's foot.

BEAUTY AND BRAINS

"Beauty from the neck up"—otherwise brains—are to figure in a State-wide contest to be staged by the California Business and Professional Women's League. Sniff—for the proud pulchritudinous!

Some very lovely lady is likely to fool them at that. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, for instance, has a record equaled by few great lawyers in the history of this nation's legal department; yet Mabel is very easy to look at.

I wouldn't say that Mary Pickford has to wear a mask; yet our little Mary is very heavily balgot along well. From then on he again began to droop and when he left the stand at about 4 o'clock he almost had to be carried from the room.

D'Orr during the entire first portion of his cross-examination of Getzoff which began Tuesday questioned the confessed bribe-giver regarding his various asserted conversations and visits with Davis while the latter was chief deputy district attorney under Keyes.

"Buddy is a liar and he knows it," declared Getzoff from the witness stand time after time shaking his finger in Davis's general direction.

The asserted gift of a reading lamp, gifts of whisky and the purported presentation of material for a dress by Getzoff to Davis was gone over in detail. Getzoff's mind, he declared, was not clear on many points, such as where Davis lived and when the various conservations were held.

Under the searching questions of D'Orr the former tailor declared that he knew that Keyes had charge of the District Attorney's office and that a dismissal of the Ed Rosenberg case, which was being sought by him, would have to come from the head of the office. In spite of this knowledge Getzoff testified that he went to Davis for the favor. He explained this by saying that Keyes told him to take the matter up with his chief deputy.

BARGAIN CHARGED

Stress was placed by D'Orr on an asserted bargain between Getzoff and Dist.-Atty. Fitts relative to probation for the convicted tailor in return for a story involving Davis in some corruption. This was denied by Getzoff in no uncertain terms and further he testified that he had offered his testimony to Fitts before the close of the case which resulted in his conviction.

"I wanted to get the whole thing off of my mind," declared Getzoff. "I never made any deal with anybody. I was granted probation after I made my statement but I had already told Fitts that I would come clean on the whole affair."

Getzoff was branded as a "bribery broker" as well as a "bootleg broker" by D'Orr in direct questions during the early part of the examination. The witness did not deny the first charge but protested against being called a "bootlegger."

WHISKY GIFTS

He explained at this point that he had given away a lot of whisky but never sold any. He again announced that he had given a lot of liquor to Davis and had entertained Davis, his wife and Forrest Murray, also a former chief deputy under Keyes, at his home and served them whisky.

Little could be learned from the defense counsel regarding Miss Johnson. They declared, however, that she will be called as a witness. Evidence will be offered, D'Orr announced, to show that the former tailor has been buying the woman gifts since he was granted probation.

After Getzoff had failed to identify her in open court and had stated that he had never seen her before, she was taken away by Attorney Reynolds and refused to make any kind of a statement to the newspaper men who attempted to interview her at the Hall of Justice.

In her apartment at 512 South Park avenue, where she was interviewed later, however, she declared she was vexed and puzzled over the procedure that took her to court, and she denied emphatically that she knows Getzoff, Davis or anyone connected with the case at trial.

WILL DEMAND EXPLANATION

"I haven't the slightest idea why I was taken to court," she said. "I do not know any of those people, and I certainly intend to get proper explanations from whoever is responsible for the subpoena."

"You are sure that you are unacquainted with Getzoff?" she was asked.

"I am positive," she replied.

"And you are equally certain that you know none of the others in the case?"

"I do not."

"Have you the remotest idea why your name should be injected in the case and your presence demanded at court?"

"None, whatever."

Miss Johnson says she intends today to communicate with relatives at Anaheim preparatory to having the family lawyer demand an explanation.

"BUSHY-HAIRED MAN"

Just as Miss Johnson was taken away a kind of anticlimax came to the already excited courtroom when Judge Wilson sent the bailiff out to bring before the court "that large, bushy-haired man who was standing in the doorway a moment ago." When the bushy-haired man appeared protesting in the clutches of the law the judge asked him if he had been attempting to make signs to the jury. Then it developed that he was a newspaper photographer attempting to find the reporter who had him in charge. He forthwith was excused by the court after he explained that he had been waving his hands trying to attract the attention of the missing reporter.

Foundation for possible impeachment was laid by D'Orr during the entire course of his cross-examination. Name after name of attorneys who were in the Julian fraud trials and the trial of Keyes were dragged into the record and Getzoff was asked about various conversations with them. To most of the questions he answered in the negative.

From the examination it appeared that a host of witnesses will be called by Davis in an effort to destroy the story poured out by Getzoff. Some of the well-known local attorneys and others, all of whom appeared in the various Julian litigations, are to be called if the examination yesterday is to be used as the base for impeachment.

Joe Sherman who, together with Milton Pike and another tailor, worked for Getzoff during the course of the Julian bribery plot, took the stand after Getzoff was excused. He completed both his direct and cross-examination in half an hour.

Pointing his finger at Davis, Sherman testified that he heard the former county official ask Getzoff for money.

"Why don't he come across with the rest of the money," is what Davis said to Getzoff in the Spring-street tailor shop, according to Sherman.

CHARGE HURLED

Sherman, who testified in very broken English, also declared that Davis came into the tailor shop three or four times during and after the Julian fraud case but that the one conversation relative to the money was the only one overheard by him.

"Buddy Davis is lying to this court and he is telling his attorney a lie," shouted Sherman under cross-examination. He then proceeded to deny that he entered into any deal with Milton Pike, the other tailor, who will not be called as a witness in this case, to sell out testimony to Davis.

"I never spoke to Davis but once," declared Sherman. "He came up to me during the Jacobson trial while I was sitting in the courtroom and I told him to get away from me, that I was a witness against him. He said that is right and then he left."

The Davis case which started to trial last Monday morning is the outcome of a grand jury indictment based upon Getzoff's story as told from the witness stand yesterday. The former chief deputy District Attorney had charge of the Julian stock-fraud prosecutions which resulted in a verdict of not guilty. Getzoff in his confession and repeated in his testimony charged that Davis accepted $7500 from him which had been paid by Ed Rosenberg, one of the defendants, and promised to "lie down" on the Rosenberg angle of the prosecution.

tended since his arrest a week ago, that the entire case was a "frame-up" to bring discredit on him for testifying in the Asa Keyes, Ben Getzoff, Ed Rosenberg and others bribery conspiracy trial.

"I am pleased with my release, of course," Pike said, "but it was as I expected. I have not been afraid of the outcome at any time, and felt that I would get a fair hearing when all the testimony was before the grand jury."

Davis, who is now on trial on a bribery conspiracy charge, when apprised of the grand jury action and the dismissal, said: "In view of the fact that a complaint has been issued and sworn to before a court, and with the witnesses ready to testify, I believe that the case should be prosecuted."

In concluding the Pike portion of their investigation the grand jury yesterday heard Pike, Police Officers Walker and Hamilton, who made the arrest in a downtown hotel and found $320 in marked bills on Pike; Harry M. Hull, a private detective, who installed dictaphones in the room where conferences between Pike and Davis were held, and Jacob Berman or Bennett, known as the "bright boy" of the Julian Corporation, and one of the leading prosecution witnesses in the Keyes conspiracy trial. The grand jury declined to reveal the testimony given in the present investigation by Bennett.

No action was taken by the grand jury on the dismissal of Ben Smith, as official reporter, but De Garmo said that this phase of the investigation will be disposed of next Tuesday.

Fitts has asked the permanent dismissal of Smith from his connections with the grand jury over Smith's refusal to turn over to him notes and statements taken during the meetings between Davis, Pike and Fred L. Packard, who acted as an intermediary between the two. Smith was temporarily replaced during the present investigation.

Perry E. Larson, 47-year-old bookkeeper for the Los Angeles Grain Exchange, 560 I. W. Hellman Building, is held on two felony charges following his confession yesterday that he planted dynamite in the exchange's office in an effort to destroy records of the organization to hide a $1500 discrepancy in his accounts. The ensuing explosion did about $2500 to $3000 damage.

Larson's confession came as a dramatic climax two hours after other occupants of the building at 124 West Fourth street, notified police that a blast on the fifth floor of the structure had rocked the building.

Detective Lieutenants Willis and Tucker of central flying squad answered the alarm and broke into the offices. The blast had wrecked a record container in the board of directors' room and strewn debris into the lobby of the exchange.

CANDLE EXTINGUISHED

Heroic efforts on the part of the officers probably saved the building from serious damage when they invaded the laboratory and extinguished a lighted candle that had been placed there to ignite gas from six gas jets which had been left open.

"What was the reason for you taking money from the Los Angeles Grain Exchange?" Detective Lieutenant Colling asked Larson during the taking of a signed statement.

"Because it was costing me so much to buy liquor and chase around and go to parties. I didn't want to steal it from my wife and I didn't want them to go hungry, and I thought I would steal it from the grain exchange," Larson answered.

Larson explained that he planted the dynamite at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening but because janitors saw him enter and leave the office he was afraid to set it off at that time. At home he set his clock ahead one hour so his wife would not think his early departure yesterday something out of the ordinary. He went directly to the office to discharge his bombs, he said.

HOW HE DID IT

He also disclosed that he obtained the money by stamping checks payable to the exchange with its signature stamp, then indorsing them and depositing them to his account. At the end of the month the amount of total accounts receivable was reduced by him to cover defalcations, the man said. He had complete charge of the books.

The dynamite was purchased Tuesday at a store at 844 Annandale Boulevard, Larson said in his confession.

It was pointed out by Larson that new officials of the company were elected last Monday and that the annual audit usually follows closely after the election, which meant that the shortage would be discovered.

Larson, in his statement, said he intended to make a thorough job of the destruction of the records but his plan went askew.

PAPER IGNITED AGAIN

After the blast in the board of directors' room, Larson said, he waited for several minutes to learn the result of the four sticks of dynamite he admitted he had planted inside ledgers in the office of M. D. Thieband, secretary-manager of the exchange, and to which were attached an equal number of three-foot fuses. About the end of the fuses a quantity of paper had been wrapped and to this a match had been touched. When the dynamite in the safe failed to explode in the allotted time, he said, he returned to the room and ignited the paper again.

Apparently because of hurry, the paper again failed to become ignited sufficiently to start the fuses and when officers reached the scene only the outside coverings of them were charred.

Captain of Detectives Lynn and Detectives-Lieutenants Colling and Leslie and H. H. Coleman, fingerprint expert, immediately held all employees of the exchange in the room and began an elimination fingerprint test. Coleman said he noticed that as he held Larson's hand upon the ink pad the man was in a highly nervous state. As Larson completed his test Coleman turned to Capt. Lynn and told him Larson's fingerprint resembled closely one found upon a bottle of gasoline found in the safe with the dynamite, apparently placed there to insure that fire would follow the explosion.

LARSON WATCHED

Larson was put under surveillance. The man eventually rolled up several ledger sheets and stuffed them into his trouser belt. He left the office, followed by Capt. Lynn.

"Where are you going?" the officer asked Larson.

"To the lavatory," the man replied.

"What are you going to do with the ledger sheets you have concealed on you?" Lynn questioned.

"I am going to destroy them, of course," Lynn said Larson replied.

The officer told Larson to return with him to Mr. Thieband and tell his employer why the attempt had been made to destroy the exchange.

Without hesitation the man poured forth a story of peculations covering a period of a year and which he said amounts to about $1500.

Larson slipped into the office between 6:30 and 7 a.m., he said, after the departure of Charles Weyler and O. W. Dillinger, grain inspectors, who leave the office for their work at 6:30 o'clock each morning.

Police said that had the explosion been fully successful lives of scores of persons on Main street would have been in jeopardy because enough explosives were contained in the safe to have blown out that section of the wall against which the safe sat.

Larson lives with his wife and two children at 2007 East Seventy-fourth street. His daughter recently was graduated from high school. He has been an employee of the exchange for about six years and was a trusted member of the office staff, officials of the company said.

He is booked under Section 601 of the Penal Code and for embezzlement. The first charge covers dynamiting of inhabited public buildings.

The exchange is headed by J. Eichelberger, president of the Sperry Flour Company. Max Viandt of the California Milling Company is vice-president, E. B. Young of the J. B. Hill Company is treasurer and Morton D. Thieband is secretary-manager.

TOUR VETERAN SURPRISED

Los Angeles Proves Revelation to Otto Deffaa, Who Has Conducted Many European Trips

For twenty years or more Otto A. Deffaa of New York has been conducting large parties of tourists to Europe and South America. As head of the Deffaa Travel Bureau, he has covered thousands of miles on land and sea, but it was not until yesterday morning that he obtained his first personal impressions of Southern California, and—

"I go to Europe three times, and sometimes four times a year, but hereafter, I am coming to California more often," he said at the Alexandria yesterday, where he is in charge of a party of some forty New Yorkers, most of them members of the New York Central Scheutzen Corps, a rifle club.

"Here in Southern California you have worked miracles in the way of progress and enterprise, and I should like to live here," he added.

Prominent in Mr. Deffaa's party are John D. Hueneker, rifle expert; L. Geib, interior decorator, who has just completed work on the President's palace at Havana; L. A. Kissling, New York realty dealer, and Prof. Emil Oslander, composer.

The party will remain in Los Angeles until Saturday afternoon, when it is scheduled to sail on the Venezuela for the East Coast, via the Panama Canal. The party has visited Chicago, Omaha, Denver, Colorado Springs, the Yosemite, San Francisco and the Southland on the tour, but many in the party yesterday expressed the belief that nowhere has a visited city offered the personal appeal that Los Angeles offers.

Mr. Deffaa conducted the first German-American party of tourists to Belgium and France after the World War.

Dancer's Suit Against Earle Meets Delay

Dolores Salazar, young dancer, yesterday, was in Superior Judge Craig's court to begin her legal battle for $180,000 damages against Ferdinand Pinney Earle, famous artist, but she didn't get a chance to say a word.

Instead, the attorneys in the case, Roger Marchetti for the plaintiff and Sam Steelman for the defense, argued the question of admitting as testimony depositions of Earle taken in Paris, where the artist resides. Judge Craig will decide Monday whether the case can go to trial without Earle or whether a judgment by default should be entered.

FAHY'S PLANE PASSES FIRST TEST

The giant monoplane Black Hornet, which Herbert J. Fahy expects to fly to New York and back in thirty-two hours to test the feasibility of an eighteen-hour nonstop air-line between here and the East coast, speeded 180 miles an hour late yesterday over Burbank with little effort during its first test flight.

Fahy declared that he had the 525-horsepower Pratt-Whitney motor formerly used by army and navy pilots for speed tests, only partly open and that with the addition of a speed cowling over the motor he believes the ship will cruise at an average of nearly 200 miles an hour over the double transcontinental hop. His take-off is set for 12:01 a.m. next Saturday from Los Angeles Metrtpolitan Airport.

Harold Bromley's low-winged monoplane, the City of Tacoma, which he plans to fly from Tacoma to Tokio will be tested by Fahy tomorrow.

WOMAN HELD IN BANK ROBBERY

Branch Manager Forced to to Give Up $2000

Search Now on for Two Armed Men

Identification of Mrs. Marie Sterling by bank employees last night, as the woman who drove the bandit roadster, sent police on a chase of two armed men who held up the Bank of Italy branch bank at 5123 West Adams street during the noon hour yesterday and escaped with $2000.

"Shove over large bills first. We have you covered. Machine gun outside. Give us $15,000," read a hurriedly scribbled note that one of the men shoved through a teller's window to John Maharg, manager.

Maharg handed the men a roll of bills, and brandishing guns which both carried, the men rushed to the curb, where a woman sat at the wheel of a tan-colored roadster. The motor had been left running and the woman turned the car north on Redondo Boulevard, witnesses stated.

Through the license number of the bandit car police trailed and caught Mrs. Sterling a half an hour later at 1643 Orange Grove avenue. The arrest was made by Captain of Detectives Art Stoll and squad, who reported that the motor of the car was still warm.

After her identification by the bank officials, Mrs. Sterling was questioned by police and revealed that she is 26 years of age, the mother of a 5-year-old son and separated from her husband. She had been making her home at the Orange Grove-avenue address and a few days ago brought two men there. Both are now being sought by the police.

The police further discovered that the car used by the bandits was taken from the home where they had been living. A second auto is believed to have been used in the escape, as police were informed that the two men left the car driven by Mrs. Sterling about one mile from the scene of the hold-up.

AIR EXPRESS ADDS PLANE TO BAY CITY

Starting Next Wednesday Additional Craft Will Go North Daily at 5 p.m.

Doubling of daily service between Los Angeles and San Francisco, via Oakland, was announced yesterday by C. W. H. Smith, general traffic manager of Western Air Express. At the same time, Mr. Smith also announced that the company's new terminal on Valley Boulevard will be occupied next Wednesday.

Heretofore only one northbound plane of the company has left here each day, at 8:50 a.m. Under the new schedule, effective Wednesday, another plane will depart at 5 p.m. Trimotor, twelve-passenger Fokker cabin planes, capable of a top speed of 150 miles an hour, are used.

"The plane leaving here at 5 o'clock will reach the northern terminal at 8 p.m., adhering to the three-hour schedule which we have maintained between the two cities for the last year," Mr. Smith said. "This will afford anyone a full business day in either city, with absolutely no loss of time, or the necessity of spending a night on the train."

tions agreed to accept stock of the new organization on a share-for-share basis. The new bank was to have been known as the Pacific Bank of Commerce National Association.

It was to have been capitalized at 120,000 shares of $25 par value stock. After 80,000 shares were exchanged for Pacific National Bank stock and 20,000 shares for National Bank of Commerce stock, shareholders of both were offered the privilege of subscribing to additional shares at $40 each in the proportion of one new for each five shares of the old held. Subscriptions were to be made on or before the 8th inst.

Immediately following the ratification of the merger terms by stockholders of both banks, June 7, last, directors of the National Bank of Commerce declared a dividend of $3 a share, which was supposed to be paid the 1st inst., but which, it was learned, also had been canceled. The bank has paid no dividends since its organization in 1924 under the name of the Peoples' Bank and Trust Company.

COURT DECREES HOWARD DEATH

Sentence Imposed in Cooley Hammer Slaying

New Trial Denied and Notice of Appeal Filed

Defendant Unmoved Despite Import of Words

John L. Howard, night garage manager who was convicted of the murder on April 16, last, of his employer, Victor A. Cooley, Pasadena automobile man, yesterday was sentenced to death by Judge Hardy of Superior Court. Sentence was imposed after the court denied defense motions for a new trial and modification of judgment. Notice of appeal to the Supreme Court was filed.

Howard maintained the same outward calm that marked his trial as the court pronounced the words, which, if upheld by the Supreme Court, mean that he will pay with his life for the fatal hammer attack on Cooley.

Judge Hardy fixed Friday, September 27, next, and San Quentin penitentiary as the date and place of execution. Filing of the appeal, however, will result in an automatic stay of execution until the Supreme Court finally rules on the case.

NEW TRIAL PLEA

In moving for a new trial, Defense Counsel Josiah Coombs contended the evidence did not support the verdict brought in by the jury of six men and six women before whom the case was tried. He declared that, outside of Howard's confession, which was repudiated by the defense, there was no other evidence to indicate that Howard was the man who sneaked into Cooley's apartment and attacked the automobile man with a hammer. Coombs also pressed the defense point that the prosecution had failed to establish any malice or premeditation.

In lieu of granting a new trial, Coombs suggested the court might exercise the discretion conferred upon it by a recent statute and reduce the crime to one of second-degree murder or manslaughter.

Chief Deputy District Attorney [illegible], who, with Dep. Dist.-Atty. [illegible], prosecuted the case, responded briefly to Coomb's argument.

STATE'S RESPONSE

[illegible] declared the jury was justified in its verdict of first degree murder carrying a death penalty and asked the court to allow the Supreme Court to pass on the points raised by Coombs, thus allowing an opportunity for "seven minds to decide the issues that otherwise [illegible] would have to pass upon alone in this motion for a new trial."

In denying the motions of defense counsel, Judge Hardy stated he is satisfied that Howard's confession had been freely made and without promises, threats or other illegal means being employed by those to whom the confession was given.

While the case against Howard was not as strong as in some other murder cases, Judge Hardy declared, the circumstances "pointed to the defendant as the one committing the homicide."

As to modifying the degree of the crime, Judge Hardy expressed "grave doubt" of the wisdom of such a step, inasmuch as the new statute has not yet been passed upon by the Supreme Court.

HOWARD SPEAKS

Howard was ordered to stand and the court asked him if he wished to say anything prior to the pronouncement of judgment.

Apparently calm and cool, although pale, Howard stood beside his attorney, with whom he exchanged a few whispered words. His voice was low and somewhat husky as he addressed the court:

"As I have said, Judge, it was a forced confession."

A trace of a nervous smile hovered over the condemned man's features as Judge Hardy read the sentence and fixed September 27 as the date for execution. Howard, still calm and to all outward appearances unmoved, was returned to his cell in the County Jail.

The State charged Howard beat his employer, with whom he roomed, in order to remove Cooley as an obstacle in the path of Howard's pursuit of the affections of Mrs. Pearl Cooley, widow of the slain man.

DEFENSE CONTENTION

Howard, who took the witness stand in his own defense, denied he ever was in love with Mrs. Cooley, although he admitted he had "hugged and kissed her" on several occasions. He repudiated the confession introduced by the State on the ground that he made the statement to save Mrs. Cooley, whom he was led to believe had been taken in custody in connection with her husband's death. The Cooleys were separated at the time of the murder.

Mrs. Cooley, called as a prosecution witness, said she inferred Howard was in love with her and wanted to marry her and declared she told him in substance that she never could love any man other than Cooley as long as the latter was living.

Mrs. Cooley was not in court yesterday when sentence was pronounced. Clyde Cooley, son of the dead man by a previous marriage, occupied a seat in the rear of the room during the proceedings and left quietly after the sentence was pronounced.

PERU'S BOY HIKER MAY STAY HERE

Lad Gained Fame for His 18,000-Mile Walk from Argentina to New York

Augusto Flores, Peruvian lad who attracted attention for his 18,000-mile hike from Buenos Aires, Argentina, 1926-1928, has come to look over Los Angeles, he informed Manuel Ayulo, local Consul for Peru. He visited city officials and Boy Scout headquarters here yesterday. He is stopping at the Rosslyn.

Flores lived with his father, an automobile dealer in Chepen, Peru, but wished to come to the United States. Finding no other way, he and four companions, each about 15 years of age, set out afoot from Buenos Aires. One boy was drowned, another died of snake bite and the other two turned back. In two years Augusto finally reached New York, walking all the way, he asserts.

Since then he has visited twenty-one States and said he has more than 3000 letters by Governors, Mayors and other notables. He came here as guest of the Pickwick air and bus cross-country service, he said. He has been supporting himself by addressing schools, clubs and Scout bodies.

"I think I will stay here," Augusto said. "This is a good place. Maybe I can get into school this fall and learn something to help me in this country. I am going to stay here a long time, maybe."

LAST RITES OF ACTRESS TOMORROW

Gladys Brockwell, Victim of Automobile Accident, Will be Laid to Rest

Funeral services for Gladys Brockwell, screen actress who died Tuesday night as a result of injuries received in an automobile accident, will be conducted at Hollywood Cemetery chapel tomorrow at 2 p.m. Tentative arrangements announced yesterday include final rites of the Christian Science Church and cremation.

After a technical examination of the body yesterday by the Coroner's office required by law in cases of deaths from traffic accidents, the body was taken to the Ivy H. Overholtzer undertaking establishment at 1719 South Flower street, where it will remain until the time of the funeral.

Mrs. Lillian Brockwell, mother of the actress, was reported to be near collapse yesterday. Her daughter lived with her. Miss Brockwell was fatally injured Thursday, June 27, when an automobile driven by T. Stanley Brennan, Los Angeles advertising man, plunged off the Ventura highway near Calabasas, pinning her beneath the wreckage. Brennan also was hurt. He is recovering at the Osteopathic Hospital.

CORONER'S JURY FIXES DEATH CAUSE

A Coroner's jury inquired into the circumstances of the death of Gladys Brockwell yesterday and returned a verdict that she came to her death as the result of an automobile accident which was due to the temporary blindness of T. Stanley Brennan, causing him to lose control of the machine.

Acute peritonitis, resulting from a puncture wound of the stomach, was ascribed as the immediate cause of death. No negligence was placed on Brennan. He now is in the hospital suffering from injuries received in the accident.

Today's Bible Text

But the tongue no man can tame; it is an unruly evil, full of deadly poison James iii:8.

THE HOME GUARDS

What the country needs is more big butter-and-egg men and fewer big navy champions.

THE SINGER

A waitress in a Boston beanery proves to be a high-powered poetess between meals. And they can't say it's in the atmosphere either.

NATURAL METHODS

Using human nature and common sense in our international contacts is better than relying upon the tangled skein of diplomatic precedent. Ask Charlie Dawes.

FALSE ALARM

Man told his bride that he was in the movies, but she finds that he has never worked since he was married. He says he is a player and, therefore, is not supposed to work. He will have to work to get her back. She has walked out on him. They will do that.

THE FUNDAMENTALS

The argument is made that if prohibition enforcement measures are the object of persistent and organized attack they also require special and insistent defense. No fighting man could take exception to this. It is the first chapter in the book of logic.

GOLD DIGGERS

It is claimed that prior to his last fight Tunney's attorneys made a full settlement with the plumber's ex-wife. They are said to have paid her something like $60,000 and to have secured a full release of all claims and demands she might have or hold. If that is the case the lady's later action for $500,000 damages is poor sportsmanship. It looks as if the dame was bound to get some notoriety out of her friendship with the fighter.

FOUND BIG GAME

An English postman while making his rounds came upon a massive African lion in a cottage garden and promptly shot and killed the animal with a pistol he happened to be carrying. The beast had escaped from a circus and was known as a tough proposition. The incident proves that high adventure may come into the prosaic life of a letter carrier on his daily beat. Nor is it everyone who would care to go gunning for lions with a common pocket pistol.

UNDER SUSPICION

A member of the Democratic National Committee refuses to tell the New Jersey legislators where he got his money and his arrest was ordered. It seems that when a Legislature gets curious the individual must humor the solons or go to the hoosegow. The day may come when the nation will need bigger and better jails to hold citizens who are in contempt of courts and assemblies. Maybe it will have to be conceded that any Democrat having money will be under suspicion.

FIRE PREVENTION

The government seeks to establish a fire-prevention policy in connection with the parks and forest reserves of the West. The time to stop a fire is just before it starts. By heading off the chances for a blaze the fire hazard drops to nothing. The government has a fair organization and equipment with which to cope with fires after they are under way, but a system and program to effectively ward off the blaze is the thing that counts. The people will have to co-operate to make the machinery successful.

TAKE THE ELEVATOR

Regular elevators will take the workers up and down the face of Black Canyon in connection with the creation of the Colorado River dam. They will be prepared to run up and down at all hours and the steel cages will hold many passengers. It is a distance of nearly 1200 feet from the bed of the stream to the brow of the cliff—thus making a run twice as long as the lifts in the Woolworth Building in New York. The dam itself will be over 700 feet high, so that the project is epoch-marking in several ways.

A VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

The gratification which Dist.-Atty. Fitts and his chief deputy, Robert P. Stewart, must feel as a result of the grand jury's repudiation of charges made against the District Attorney and his aide by Harold L. Davis, former official now on trial accused of accepting a bribe, may be shared to the fullest extent by the people of this city and county.

Whether the motives of Davis in making the charges were dictated by a desire to becloud the issues in his own case or arose from a sincere conviction that his suspicions were justified, public security and confidence are greatly served by the formal assurance of the new grand jury that a careful investigation of the Davis charges shows them to be "unfounded and untrue."

The further action of the nineteen jurors unanimously adopting a resolution expressing confidence in the integrity of Fitts and Stewart not only disposes specifically of the heated attack on the two officials by a former member of the District Attorney's office who is himself charged with a crime, but affords assurance to the people that the prosecutor's office is being capably, honestly and energetically administered.

A real service has been rendered by the grand jury in this affair, and a situation that well might have developed much uncertainty and possibly a recurrence of the lack of confidence felt by the public at large during the incumbency of Asa Keyes has been cleared up by a fair, complete and fearless investigation.

Possibly an energetic, faithful, efficient and courageous public officer is not deserving of special commendation merely because he does his duty to the best of his ability, but the absence of such desirable and essential qualities in so many instances gives emphasis to their existence when they are found.

The office of District Attorney of Los Angeles under Fitts has shown a remarkable improvement during the seven months he has been in charge here. That he will continue to improve the service, with the loyal aid of his staff, seems certain. The position is not a sinecure from any standpoint, as any public officer who undertakes a combat with crime and criminals finds constant need for all his resources of courage, honor, intelligence and energy.

To receive a vote of confidence after a little more than half a year in cleaning up an office which had fallen so far into disrepute is, indeed, a splendid beginning for a man who desires to serve the public efficiently and effectively.

UNCLE SAM'S BIRTHDAY

Uncle Sam's birthday cake now boasts 153 candles. While a century and a half is a period not particularly impressive as a nation's span of life, comparatively speaking, this youngster among the world powers has attained a stature towering above countries many times his age.

Uncle Sam is a youth hardly out of the one-suspender age. Being no exception to childhood in general, he began life with a Declaration of Independence. Like other noisy boys, he celebrated his birthday for years by firing off shooting crackers and measured his good time by the rumpus he kicked up and the amount of picnic stomachache he annexed.

As he approached manhood, he became more contained. His speech is not so flamboyant now. He is not around knocking off chips from the shoulders of other blusterers with as much abandon. He has discovered that patriotism is more than pulling out the tail feathers and making the American eagle scream.

His home folks do not use the same tonics they once did to enliven his birthday party. They are gradually ceasing to celebrate his natal anniversary like Comanche Indians. This does not mean that he is too old to play. Indeed, this day of national days is now spent more in games and athletic contests than ever.

Cartoonists at home and abroad picture Uncle Sam with a paint brush on his chin and a stovepipe on his head. Yet, as a matter of fact, he is a beardless boy, as the years of nations go.

Accused of not having as yet produced many great works of literature and art, he pleads only his youth. Books are largely autobiographical and he has not yet reached the reminiscent age. He has never been a bounder, and anything he could say would lack piquancy to the jaded Old World.

Uncle Sam is no diplomat. Youth seldom is. He always blurts out what he thinks. His diplomacy consists largely in telling the truth as he sees it. Inasmuch as ordinary diplomacy is apt to be anything but the truth, his honesty serves very well. He is too busy improving his domain, putting the harness on his great rivers, boring through his great mountains for metals and travel, bridging his grand canyons, working with his wheels and wings and otherwise employing himself, to bother much about diplomacy.

He is a friend of the underdog. When the Texans wanted to be free, he jumped over his back fence and pulled their assailant off. When Cuba yelled for help, he doubled up his fists and pummeled Spain off the continent. And when the last big war came on he turned his big boots into boats and strode across the ocean at the cry of the little Belgian children. To this day he cannot stand to hear a child cry even away over in Armenia. As romantic as Don Quixote, he is living the episodes for some Cervantes to record off in the future. He is a modern knight errant in shirt sleeves.

Uncle Sam is too big and wholesome to be a lounge lizard. He is too busy tinkering with radio and flying machines. Swords and drums no longer intrigue him greatly. He strips atoms as familiarly as he shucks his shirt at the old swimming hole. He is young enough to follow the band and keep step with the onward march of things.

Orphaned in early life, he learned to land on his feet. Born in the wilderness, he has the craft of the pioneer. Young enough to catch every new idea that comes around the corner, he generally heads the procession. Never having been coddled, he never cringes.

All in all, Uncle Sam must be something of a comfort to Deity. He does not brag much of a history; he is too busy making one. He does not have a gentry; he is working too hard. He does not have a king; every man is king. He has no old ruins; he is erecting structures for future ages to conjure with.

The sky is his limit and the horizon, ever retreating, his back fence!

TANAKA IS OUT

Giishi Tanaka, Premier of Japan, and his whole ministry have been forced out of office because of their quibbling over the signing of the Kellogg peace pact and their inability or unwillingness to accord with the liberal policy of the young Emperor, Hirohito, who is forming a Cabinet more to his liking in the matter of modern diplomacy and conduct of political affairs.

Tanaka and his Cabinet received the Kellogg pact for ratification in March, but did not ratify it until June 26, owing to the development of opposition within its own ranks said to have been fomented by the militarists, though the pretext for delay was that a phrase in the treaty—"in the names of their respective peoples"—was contrary to the spirit of Japan's constitution and that the Emperor alone could ratify the pact. pact.

It was not only Tanaka's vacillation in the matter of the signing of the treaty that brought about his downfall. He is an old man and exceedingly conservative, not in accord with the modern and liberal views of the Emperor. Nor has he shown much willingness to adapt himself to the new trend of Japan. Ito, who wrote most of the constitution of Japan, and proved himself a most progressive statesman, would not, in Tanaka's place, have quibbled over a phrase and held up such highly important international business as the Kellogg pact for so much as a week. There seemed something sinister to the other powers in Japan's act of aloofness. On March 20 Japan, alone of the original signatories, had withheld its ratification, although the treaty was known to have the full sanction of the Emperor.

Like China, Japan has been under the curse of dominant militarism. Its army officers have been a law unto themselves. They were ordered to police a railroad on the night Gen. Chang Tso-lin was to pass over it from Peking to Mukden, but they failed to do so, and Chang's train was bombed, with fatal results to the general. But Tanaka did not discipline the officers for their disobedience. For this sin of omission, as well as many other failures to perform what the Emperor considered his obvious duty, Tanaka lost face in court, and now must stand back and see a more liberal man take the helm of government. It will be a hopeful day for Japan when the new Cabinet is formed, and also it will be of benefit to America and the other powers, which in such vital international dealings as the Kellogg treaty have little patience with obstructionists.

THE GREATER GOOD

The Rockefeller Foundation is surely enlisted under the banner of the greater good to the greater number. In the last fifteen years this organization of scientific benevolence has expended more than $145,000,000 and it has virtually all gone toward the alleviation of human suffering all over the world. New ways are found to fight old diseases and beds of sickness are being eased in every clime and under every flag. Its purpose is to make this ancient world healthier, safer and better in every possible way. This is a huge undertaking, but a generous outpour of millions in money has brought wonderful results. And the work is going on.

The LEE SIDE O' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

IF YOU are a lover of that popular literature replete with such exclamations as "Zam!" and "Zowie!" the name of the Zamorano Club may mislead you. You may conclude it is a night club or one of those restaurants where there's something going out every minute.

HOW I HATE PUBLICITY
ZAMORANO CLUB

On the contrary, the Zamorano Club hasn't even a telephone. It doesn't want to be disturbed. There are no boisterous personalities in it. Its members are folks like Dr. Max Farrand of the Huntington Library, W. A. Clark, Jr., John Treanor, Arthur Ellis and others just about as fond of high kicking and jazz.

When the club meets you could hear a pin drop. If you made any needless noise you could even hear the temperature drop.

And yet it is a club of enthusiasts, about the highest-brow enthusiasts around. And their especial enthusiasm is for beautiful books. It is, in fact, the Los Angeles club which corresponds to the Caxton Club of Chicago and the Grolier Club of New York.

California's First Printer

Just here we'd better hesitate and explain a moment. There are a number of members of the Grolier Club here, and though they are mild and gentle men it would be well not to introduce any of them as members of the Grolier Society. The latter is a purely commercial organization, while the Grolier Club is a purely artistic organization.

The Zamorano Club is made up of book collectors, most of whom are terribly shy of publicity for fear people with books which aren't at all interesting to them will descend on them and try to sell them volumes they imagine are valuable. The club is named in honor of the first printer in California. According to Robert E. Cowan, librarian for Mr. Clark, Zamorano was publishing books in Monterey about 1852.

Doesn't that show how young we are?

Reaching the People

Beore it came to Los Angeles as a stage show, "The Desert Song" had had long runs in New York and elsewhere, and then it enjoyed a continuous run of about 400 performances here. But a music dealer tells us that since it has been made into a sound picture the demand for sheet-music selections from it has doubled. "Hits" of two years ago are bigger hits than ever now.

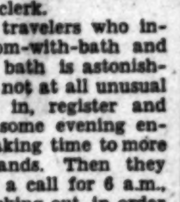
THE DESERT SONG
I'M JES GONNA WAIT FOR THE RED SHADOW!
ALL TALK ALL SINGS

That gives an idea of how much more effectively the screen takes a show to the people than the stage ever could.

Chivalry Survives

A pleasant feminine voice with no name attached has just called us on the telephone to tell us that chivalry is not dead in Los Angeles.

"I was about to enter the General Hospital," the voice said, "when a slightly intoxicated man began making himself obnoxious to me. When I came out of the hospital he still was there, and followed me in spite of my efforts to escape him. He was so offensive that I felt it my duty to make complaint against him, and entered a small shop—a replacement shop, run in connection with a little restaurant—close to the hospital, and asked to use the telephone. The shopkeeper heard me phone, and when I went out again, and the intoxicated man began annoying me again, he left his business and stepped right out—and there was a battle royal. I don't know the name of my protector, but think he deserves a medal for gallantry."



AH, A MEDAL FOR AN UNKNOWN HERO!

So do we.

Baths for Show

Of course, none of us take baths for show, but lots of us take bathrooms for show, when traveling, according to a hotel clerk.

"The number of travelers who insist on having room-with-bath and then don't use the bath is astonishing," he says. "It is not at all unusual for people to come in, register and then hurry out to some evening engagement without taking time to more than wash their hands. Then they come in late, leave a call for 6 a.m., and at 6:15 are checking out, in order to catch a train, sleepy-eyed and looking as if they hadn't even washed their faces.

"In their own homes, only about one man in four takes a bath every day. In his office he may joke the fellow who does. But when he goes traveling he tries to create the impression that without his daily bath life would hold no pleasures for him at all."

ANYWAY, THE IDEA IS GOOD!

Why Those Blanket Towels

"Then those bath towels as big as blankets and as thick as quilts seem an unnecessary extravagance," we ventured.

"Not at all," he said. "They're an economy. In the first place, anyone who would take a towel that valuable is a thief, not a souvenir collector. In the second, you've got to have a big suitcase and lots of spare room to be able to get one of those big boys in."

TO A CATBIRD

By James J. Montague

Last spring, the while your busy beak
  Snapped up from branch and bole and root
The swarming insect hordes which wreak
  Destruction on my growing fruit,
I drove away each prowling cat
  Which might devour your little brood
Because of my deep-seated gratitude.

I did not even mind the lay
  You carolled in the early dawn,
Although I hardly need to say,
  I'd rather far have slumbered on.
I often wished that you would stop,
  But though I'd sometimes fume and chafe
I always felt my cherry crop
  Was safe.

But now the fruit glows ruby red
  Among the leaves of shining green
Whose children, frantic to be fed
  Are every morning on the scene?
Whose brood, amid the evening dews
  Each newly ripened globe secures
And strips the laden branches? Whose
  But yours?

What matters whether gnawing bug
  Or feathered glutton raids my tree
Though robbed by catbird or by slug
  The loss is all the same to me.
I thought I'd save my glowing store
  To can, and set upon the shelf,
But I was wrong; YOU saved it for Yourself!

LETTERS TO The Times

Pipes of Peace

PALMS STATION (Cal.) June 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Ambassador Dawes is showing the British Empire real democracy. At a banquet in London, after the Java was served, the general asked the Prince of Wales if he had any objections if he lit up the old hay burner, and the Prince was quick on the draw and whipped out his old briar from his pocket and refueled from the general coaling station.

Now that was the cue for the rest of them to draw, and almost every man had his smudge pot working, and they laid down a smoke screen around the table that would have been a credit to the navy in war time. And chatted about friendly Anglo-American relations, etc., a fine example for other nations to follow. When they kind a get a little hostile and bloodthirsty if they will just get together at one of Gen. Dawes's smudge parties and fill up the old pipe of peace from one another's pouches, and use their brains to settle their troubles, instead of bombs and poison gas, it would be a great step toward civilization.

A WYOMING COWBOY.

A Conscientious Objector

ALHAMBRA, July 1.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have just passed my seventy-fifth birthday and have read newspaper editorials for more than sixty years; yet never did I read the like statement of the slavery of an American citizen until I read it in the decree of Federal Judge Warren F. Burrows, and now for the second time in the editorial columns of The Times. It is astonishing to me that any writer on American citizenship can permit himself to say, "In time of war the President of the United States must have absolute control over the nation in matters relating to conscription."

There are some natural rights which no government can justly claim authority over. And most fundamental among them is the right of a man to his own soul.

OSCAR W. WILLITS.

The Economic Side

SANTA MONICA, June 27.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The enemies of the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution are constantly saying that prohibition was "put over" on the country in a hasty fashion. The fact is that prohibition was a cumulative movement stretching over many years.

The economic element was the greatest in bringing prohibition to the United States. Not the sobs of broken-hearted women or the cries of hungry children alone, but the cold calculation of business and industrial interests put prohibition into the law of the land. The foes of prohibition seem to forget this significant fact. Furthermore, Roger Babson says, "Prohibition has been a great factor in promoting business prosperity; probably one of the greatest factors."

FREDERICK W. HATCH.

The Eternal Triangle

HEBER (Cal.) July 1.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The producer or farmer is at one end and the consumer is at the other end, with the distributor between them.

The producer or farmer is yelling that he is being starved. The consumer is yelling that he is being robbed. What is the distributor saying? He must be satisfied, or at least he is saying nothing.

Are the distributors public servants? Can they be regulated and controlled as public servants? Is there any method of relief for the farmer and the consumer that the distributor, uncontrolled, will not absorb?

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Electricity?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

A student in the electricity class at the Frank Wiggins Trade Evening School, on Venice Boulevard, between Hill street and Grand avenue, gets a thorough fundamental idea of this trade. Instruction in the class is free, except for a $1 enrollment fee.

A new class begins on July 8 and meets on Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 7 to 9 p.m. Repair work is taught on all kinds of electric apparatus, such as testing motors and generators, and the connection of various types of equipment, including relays, transformers and industrial control equipment.

The instructor is E. R. Reynolds, engaged during the day as assistant to the head of the maintenance department for the Board of Education. Reynolds is district manager for installations.

'DIRECTIONS FOR USE'

BY ALMA WHITAKER

We "view with alarm" and "rise to protest." The responsibility should certainly rest with Mr. Wrigley. Having put a disturbingly popular commodity upon the market, how dare he omit those most essential "directions for use"?

It is all very well to tell us to chew it, to assure us of its virtues, to eulogize its medicinal values . . . but the most urgently needed piece of information at the moment is subsequent disposal.

Time was, you may remember, when only low lowbrows chewed gum. Even high lowbrows scorned it, except on the sly. Low highbrows and high highbrows ignored its existence. But now . . .

Only last week, at a most exclusive beach club, I discovered a dirty little wad on my new white shoes. Father found a nasty dab on the door of the new car. Heavens, the housekeeper even found a bit on the edge of a picture. Theater owners say the seats are lined with the messy stuff beneath. Yea, even de luxe airplanes have to remove dabs of chewed gum. Nay, worse, patrician women's clubs face the problem . . . Bridge tables . . . ask disgusted hostesses . . .

Heavens, what's this . . . gum stuck in the white fur of my evening cloak; what manner of company have I been keeping?

Recently we were horrified to see the jaws of a most distinguished couple munching suspiciously in the dark during a performance. I tried to watch where they parked it . . . but they were experts in secrecy. I nearly asked them . . . if there are any refined experts in the genteel disposal of chewed gum, they should be required to make their knowledge public. It's one of the crying needs of the age.

I have only chewed gum twice in my life. Once strictly as an experiment . . . in exploratative mood; and the second time when someone told me it would be good for indigestion. On both occasions I looked in vain for "directions for use" on the wrapper. I implored nice advice from the company present . . . only to evoke gales of ribald laughter. It seems that chewers have evolved no polite system, beyond an attempt at sleight of hand. In any case all and sundry are secretive anent their methods— . . . the only shame seems to be being caught in the act.

What, I pray you, are the discreet, dainty, polite methods of disposal? Laundries will assure you that spitting it into even the most expensive of perfumed handkerchiefs lacks complete refinement. Spitting it into the ticket envelope at theaters seems to be popular, vide ushers who collect such trophies from the aisles. Churches strongly disapprove of leaves from prayer books as a suitable receptacle. Sticking it on furniture . . . the most popular method of all . . . cannot surely be regarded as within the bounds of good manners.

It is up to Mr. Wrigley to evolve a recognized etiquette on the subject. Directions should be printed on the wrappers in ten languages. He should comb the world for experts, and get a few celebrated names as indorsers thereof, that we may not be led astray. I think myself he should give a suitable receptacle away with every package . . . something tasty that we could, perhaps, hang round our necks. Attractive used-gum bags might prove quite a profitable side line.

At all events, having strewn gum around the world, it is now Mr. Wrigley's duty to undertake its ultimate disposal.

GREETING THE DELEGATE

We had the Nobles for a spell,
And entertained them very well,
We sent 'em home resolved to tell
  The wonders of our borough;
Now soon from over dale and hill
Will come the clan of "Hello, Bill,"
And we must not relax our skill,
  But do the job as thorough.

The Elk is famous for his cheer,
He'll never grouch while he is here,
And he will make it very clear
  That he is glad to see you;
So swing the gates upon the strand,
And be there with the old brass band,
To grab him by the strong right hand
  With, "Hello, Bill, how be you?"

Present him with the mystic key
Of open hospitality,
And let him caper buoyantly
  In innocent endeavor;
Let welcome be so real and plain,
He'll chant when leaving one refrain,
"I'm sorry I cannot remain
  With you now and forever."

E. L. AULTMAN.

Advance in Acoustics

Through the investigations and discoveries of Prof. Vern O. Knudsen, of the University of California, it is now possible to grade the acoustic properties of an auditorium by means of an exact numerical rating. The voice energy of instructors addressing their classes was measured by Prof. Knudsen in rooms of varying sizes while the speakers were unaware of the tests being made. It was found that this voice energy varied in individuals from four microwatts to sixty-six microwatts in a small lecture hall, while in a large auditorium the range of energy was from twenty-three microwatts to 142 microwatts. This loudness of speech is one of the four factors used in the formula for determining the acoustical rating for a room. The other factors are reverberation, interfering noise and the shape of the room. Prof. Knudsen also has successfully measured reverberation and noise in his recent experiments.

RIPPLING RHYMES by Walt Mason

OUR COUNSELLORS

The man who has no appetite, to whom a meal gives no delight, says eating is a sin; and he will lecture that poor skate who may be somewhat overweight, who throws the victuals in. He makes a virtue of the act that he can't eat with grace and tact, as normal people do; to see us eat gives him a pain and he looks down with grim disdain on things we like to chew. There are some men who like to walk, and evermore we hear them talk about that exercise; they speak with scorn when we admit that we would rather bask and sit beneath the summer skies. They make a virtue of the fact that by the mere and cataract and by the mossy fen, up rugged tors and cliffs of chalk, o'er moor and wold they like to walk some fourteen miles or ten. Their counsel might seem good and wise if they detested exercise as being void of charm; but since they boost the thing they like, their call on us to rise and hike is but a false alarm. Some men can't go to bed and sleep a dreamless slumber, sound and deep, for many hours on end; a little snooze and then they wake before the dawn begins to break, and to their work descend. No doubt they'd give a million bones if they could snore in trumpet tones throughout the long dark night; but since they can't, they preach away at every tired and drowsy jay who finds sleep a delight. They make a virtue of the fact that they're unable to extract from night its proper rest; so when they tell us we should rise before the dawn lights up the skies, their counsel seems a jest.

TALLMAN CLEW IN SHIP QUIZ

Murder Suspect May Have Escaped at Dock

District Attorney's Office Completes Inquiry

New Disclosures Withheld by Fitts's Aides

Possibility that William Loren Tallman, under indictment for the murder of Mrs. Virgina Patty, may have surreptitiously left the steamship Admiral Benson as the boat was docking in San Francisco following his escape from a locked stateroom was expressed yesterday by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Shelley as he checked statements of the captain and members of the crew of the boat taken the previous day.

Statements of seven persons who were in contact with Tallman while he was aboard the Admiral Benson on the run to San Francisco from Los Angeles were taken down by a shorthand reporter to complete records of the District Attorney's office. Aside from one possible new development brought out in the questioning of five of the officers of the boat, the testimony for the most part paralleled information heretofore obtained by the police, Shelley said. Those questioned included Capt. [illegible], master of the Admiral Benson, Chief Steward Bissell, Second Steward Gooch, Quartermaster [illegible], Radio Operater Biggers, [illegible] Radio Operator Wells and [illegible] Johnson, watchman.

Mrs. Patty's body was found several weeks ago in the closet of an apartment-house on South Union avenue with the head crushed in, apparently by blows with a brick found near by. Tallman is declared by the police to have rented the apartment under an assumed name. Following a police investigation Tallman was indicted by the county grand jury.

[illegible] SUSPECT DESPITE DENIALS

HOOD RIVER (Or.) July 3. (AP)—A man held by county authorities on suspicion of being William Tallman, missing radio operator, indicted as the slayer of Mrs. Virginia Patty in Los Angeles, today denied he is Tallman and gave his name as Raymond McGowan, 23 years of age, Chicago, seeking employment in a lumber camp. He will be held until fingerprints are compared.

[illegible] SUSPECT'S [illegible] FREE HIM

PORTLAND (Or.) July 3. (AP)—It is entirely possible for two men to look as alike as two peas to casual observers and be found to have finger prints as different as day and night.

Such was the case today when [illegible] Payne, finger-print expert of the police department, received from Hood River a set of prints of the man suspected of being William Tallman, wanted in Los Angeles for the murder of Mrs. Virginia Patty. Tallman has an unusual finger-print classification, police said, including a large number of whorls in addition to loops and arches. The prints from Hood River, said to have been taken while the suspect was asleep, were entirely free of them. He will be released today.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED BY SANBORN

Naming of County Affairs Group Causes Jacobson to Make Comments

President Sanborn of the City Council yesterday announced the personnel of the County Affairs Committee, as Davis, chairman, and himself, both of whom were on the committee of the former Council, and adding Councilman Henning. This announcement touched off considerable discussion of committees.

Councilman Jacobson inserted himself into the matter by saying he was against special committtees; that the Council had fifteen committees and they were enough. The new members looked around vaguely, and Councilman Davis replied that the County Affairs Committee made it its business to get money from the Board of Supervisors for the districts of the rest of the members. In fact, the committee was to meet the board to get an allocation for Valley Boulevard in Jacobson's district. Mr. Jacobson then made a number of remarks upon the advantage of the Valley Boulevard improvement.

Councilman Ingram was transferred from the Parks and Playgrounds Committee to the Efficiency and Personnel Committee, changing places with Councilman Webster by agreement.

Greeters Greet Great Greeter

Greetings to a greeter were extended yesterday when Los Angeles greeters met Merle A. Young, manager of the Figueroa Hotel, recently elected president of the Hotel Greeters of America, on his arrival aboard the Southern Pacific Lark.

MERLE A. YOUNG

Following the national convention of Hotel Greeters in Detroit, June 12 to 15, Young, accompanied by his wife, toured the Western States and Canada, meeting with greeter organizations.

Maj. Gus Simon headed the welcome committee.

COUNCIL SETS DATES FOR BOND ELECTIONS

Ordances calling two improvement district elections were adopted yesterday by the Council. The 3rd inst. was set as the date for the election in the Municipal Improvement District 70, of $100,000 in bonds for Reseda Park on Reseda Boulevard between Reseda and Tarzana, and the 24th inst., was set as the date for Municipal Improvement District 68, a bond election of $40,000 for the Sylvan avenue site for the proposed $275,000 branch City Hall for Van Nuys.

FANS WILL DECIDE CAREER OF ACTRESS

Irene Rich

Irene Rich, film actress who has just returned from a successful vaudeville tour, is adopting a novel method of determining whether to accept a lucrative stage offer from E. H. Woods, New York producer, or continue in pictures.

Thousands of queries have been spent out to names collected from the fan letters received by Miss Rich during the past month. The preponderance of answers will be the determining factor in her decision, she declares.

Miss Rich recently was lured back to the talking screen by William Fox to share honors with Will Rogers in a feature production. Another attractive offer awaits her acceptance.

"However," she stated yesterday, "it's up to the fans."

OIL FIRE FIGHTERS REDOUBLE EFFORTS

With the blazing McKeon oil well No. 2 at Santa Fe Springs nearly subdued, engineers and workmen redoubled their efforts last night to pump enough mud, water and packing material into the well to shut it off completely. A second sideline will be attached from an underground chamber and with this doubled inlet to the well's pipes engineers were optimistic of their chance to extinguish the outlaw gusher fire.

U.S.C. REGISTERS CLOSE DOWN

Registrations of summer-session students for the full program in the six weeks' division at University of Southern California will close the 8th inst., and for credit on the 15th inst., it was announced yesterday by Dr. L. B. Rogers, dean. It was further announced that there will be a general conference on teaching credentials in Moose Hall, Bovard Administration Building, tomorrow at 3 p.m.

ELK MIGRATION VANGUARD DUE

First Official Delegations Arriving Today

Exalted Ruler Hulbert Will Reach City Tomorrow

Sunday Will See Influx of Visiting Lodgemen

COLISEUM TICKET SALE ON TODAY

To meet the heavy demand for tickets to the Elks' convention Coliseum events scheduled for next Thursday the box office in the Elks' Temple will remain open all day today. Ticket offices for the same events maintained in the B. H. Dyas Stores, however, will be closed on account of the holiday.

The tickets on sale admit the bearer to the Grand Lodge parade, night polo game and the $1,000,000 motion-picture electrical pageant. Visiting Elks and ladies from States or Territories other than California will be admitted free if properly entered at registration headquarters in the Subway Terminal Building.

Today will witness the arrival of the first official delegations to the Elks' national convention, to be held here all next week, at which 120,000 visitors are expected.

Traveling in private cars, the Jackson (Mich.) band of Zouaves, noted in Elkdom for their famous drill team, and the Columbus (O.) delegates are scheduled to arrive in Los Angeles over the Santa Fe at 2:15 p.m. They will be met by reception committee from local Elks' Lodge, No. 99, and escorted to their respective hotels with considerable ceremony.

ZOUAVES COLORFUL

The Jackson Zouaves are scheduled to arrive in uniform and will present a colorful picture on the streets. They have won many drill team contests through the Uinted States and so great was their popularity that they were induced to make a tour of Europe, appearing in many of the principal cities on the continent.

Today's arrivals will mark beginning of the major movement of Elks to this city. Tomorrow Grand Exalted Ruler Murray Hulbert of New York City, accompanied by Mrs. Hulbert and J. E. Masters, grand secretary, of Chicago, is due at 9:10 a.m. on the Union Pacific's Los Angeles Limited.

Saturday two special trains are scheduled. The first, over the Union Pacific system, will bring the Baltimore delegation and will arive at 7:20 p.m. The first special train bearing New York delegates is routed over the Santa Fe and is due at 9:45 p.m. Saturday.

FIFTEEN SUNDAY

Sunday will see fifteen special trains roll into the city with various Eastern and Middle-Western Elks aboard. While the trains will bring many, the local Elks headquarters reported the heaviest automobile traffic to a convention in history. Carl McStay, executive chairman of the Elks' committee and an official of the Automobile Club of Southern California, was authority for the statement that more delegates would arrive by automobile than any other agency. Easterners thus arriving, it was stated, have been planning trips along the entire Pacific Coast before returning to their homes.

From St. Augustine, Fla., yesterday came word that the Florida delegation would be exceptionally large in requital of the large number of Elks from Los Angeles who last year attended the national convention at Miami. The Florida delegation will be headed by Harold S. Colee, president of the Florida State Elks' Association, and is scheduled to arrive Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at the Santa Fe station. Thirty Florida Elks' lodges will be represented on the train, it was declared.

Among the arrivals yesterday was Harry H. Atkinson of Tonopah, Nev., grand esquire of the Grand Lodge. Atkinson made the trip from his home city by airplane and arrived at the Grand Central Airport in Glendale shortly after noon. He will be in charge of the Elks' Grand Lodge parade, scheduled for next Thursday in the Coliseum.

Convention of Union Central Agents Closes

The convention of the Union Central Life Insurance Company, which has been in session at the Biltmore since Monday, was concluded yesterday noon with a luncheon given for the 600 delegates by Roy H. Heartman, local manager, in honor of the officers of the home office, Cincinnati, O.

The next convention will be eighteen months hence, the place to be designated later.

Vice-President Charles Hommeyer presided at the final meeting. The speakers were Dr. William Muhlberg, Paul G. Dallwig of Chicago, E. H. Cason of Greenville, Miss.; James E. Bragg of Philadelphia and Warren M. Horner of Los Angeles.

Richardson on Tour of Europe

Friend W. Richardson, former Governor of California and president of the California Press Association, is a passenger aboard the Lancastria bound for Europe, it became known here yesterday. Accompanied by his wife and two sons, Paul and John Richardson, he is a member of the Clark Cruise which is scheduled for a two months' tour of Spain, Italy, France, Sweden, Norway, Scotland and England.

RADIO HURRAHS WILL BE HEARD

Local Stations Will Observe Fourth of July

Varied Programs Planned by Broadcasters

Patriotic Offerings Will Be Given at Set Hours

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

In varying degrees the local broadcasters will give a loud hurrah and celebrate Independence Day. Most of the stations, however, will confine their July Fourth music to some special time rather than intersperse patriotic airs through the day and evening programs.

The first special program over the Don Lee station, KHJ, will be at 11:30 a.m., when Bob Swan and Gene Byrnes make their bow before the microphone.

This duo is an 11:30 a.m. radio attraction Monday and Thursday of each week. Once upon a time Bob Swan gave the half-hour broadcast himself, with songs and piano tunes.

NEW RADIO SERIES

But this week a new series was launched and Gene Byrnes of the KHJ staff becomes a coartist on the informal period. Swan, in tenor voice, grants request numbers for his palpitating public, while Byrnes strums out piano tunes a la solo or as an accompanist.

Their broadcast offertory this morning will be made up largely of patriotic themes in honor of the day. "Yankee Doodle" undoubtedly will be one of the stirring numbers, with song and piano by one while the other will carry the air as a whistling number.

KHJ's evening Fourth of July program will be confined to a half-hour at 7 o'clock with the studio orchestra and soloists, and one organ selection.

"Hail Columbia," "Battle Hymn of the Republic," America" and "The Star Spangled Banner" will all be given the air through the medium of radio.

KFI between 6:30 and 7 p.m. will carry a New York program with a July Fourth theme. Josef Pasternack's orchestra, together with a mezzo-soprano soloist and vocal ensemble, will be the attraction.

The opening number will be Bagley's "National Emblem March," while the closing selection will feature the Sousa "Stars and Stripes Forever."

CURTAILED PROGRAM

KFWB will close down during the morning hours. It will be off the air at 1:30 o'clock for the Wrigley Field baseball games, signing off afterward until 6:20 p.m., when it will broadcast continuously until 12:10 a.m. tomorrow.

No special July Fourth program has been arranged for the station, according to advance programs.

KNX, too, will work on a curtailed schedule. The only morning broadcast from there will be from 9 to 11 o'clock. The afternoon hours will be between 2 and 4 p.m., with the Three Hundred and Sixty-fourth Infantry Band playing patriotic music from the band stand in Westlake Park.

The station again will shut down until 6 p.m., when it will come on the air with continuous broadcast until 1 a.m. tomorrow. The Independence Day program will be at 8 p.m. with Jocker's studio orchestra, Marie Golden, pianist, and George Gramlich, lyric tenor.

The A.B.C. chain at 8 o'clock will release a patriotic "Pageant of the Years," in four acts, with the music running all the way from "Columbia" and "Dixie" to "Over There" and "Madelon."

The same network at 8 p.m. will have Anthony Euwer cogitate on the July Fourth orator in his rhyme, "The Day." These two programs, however, will not be heard over KMTR locally. They will only reach to San Francisco, where KYA will carry the feature, and also KDYL of Salt Lake City.

Wife's Pledge Saves Husband From Alimony

Because Mrs. Ann Clark promised that if her husband would send her through business college she would ask no alimony when they separated, Harry D. Clark was purged of contempt for not paying his wife $75 a month she claimed as alimony.

Clark, son of a wealthy rancher of Wenatchee, Wash., told his version of the story in Superior Judge Rosenkranz's court yesterday, after Mrs. Clark had him cited for failure to pay.

"I wouldn't mind giving her the money," he said, "but she isn't attempting to get a job. She is running around to airports spending all her money in trying to learn to fly."

Judge Rosenkranz advised Mrs. Clark to keep her feet on the ground and get some work to do—or find another husband to support her.

Judge Sentences Traffic Officers to State Prison

William Homan and Floyd Davis, former police traffic officers who were convicted of four counts of bribery, yesterday were sentenced to San Quentin by Judge Wilson of Superior Court. Both defendants filed notice of appeal.

Homan and Davis are accused of obtaining amounts varying from $1 to $5 from Japanese motorists under threats to arrest them for traffic law violations.

Judge Wilson imposed sentence on all counts, but under the conditions of the sentence Homan will serve from two to twenty years, while Davis will serve from one to ten years. These terms were fixed by the court ordering two counts to run consecutively as to Homan, while sentence on all four counts runs concurrently as to Davis. The trial jury recommended leniency for Davis.

Allocation of Improvement Fund Halted

Councilman Cooke, chairman of the Council's Finance Committee, yesterday brought in a report allocating $125 from the Permanent Improvement Fund to redeem an improvement bond which the Park Department refuses to pay, and the report was on its way to adoption when Councilman Davis called a halt.

"This fund is the only one from which the Council can allocate money for improvements," he said. "Suppose we leave the Permanent Improvement Fund as it is and see if the Mayor will be in accord with taking this money from the unappropriated balance. I suggest that the committee withdraw the report and rewrite it, drawing the money from the unappropriated balance, send it to the Mayor that way and see what he wants done about it."

The report went back to the committee.

Wife Says Bow Tore Off Door, Wrecked Sleep

Robert Bow, father of Clara Bow, actress, had strange nocturnal habits which annoyed his young wife, Tui Lorraine Bow, she asserts in her divorce complaint filed yesterday.

For instance, Mrs. Bow deposes, Bow tore from its hinges the door that connected their rooms, and then refused to turn out the light, but instead, talked loudly to himself, keeping his wife awake.

On other occasions he would accuse her of unfaithfulness, she says, and once compelled an intimate friend of hers to leave the apartment where the couple live.

The couple were married September 22, 1928, and separated June 19, last.

HOOVER IDEALS CITED TO CLUB

Reserve Officers' Leader Lauds President

Success Laid to His Fine Heart Qualities

Critics of Nation Scored as Weak and Selfish

Praising President Hoover as one of the greatest practical idealists of history, Capt. Ernest F. Hanson, State president of the Reserve Officers' Association of the United States, told members of the City Club yesterday that Mr. Hoover, like Washington, Franklin and Lincoln, proves the value of his idealism in constructive action.

"In my opinion, Herbert Hoover is one of the greatest Presidents this country ever has produced," said Capt. Hanson. "His marvelous leadership, both today and during many years previous to his election to the Presidency, is due to the fact that his fine heart qualities, intellectual attainments and original thinking find expression, through his kindly will, in activities and institutions that make for humanity's welfare. If the voters of the country would see to it that only men of Hoover's type were elected to public office we should soon have better civic and State government."

Capt. Hanson was introduced by Capt. Walter B. Clausen, president of the Los Angeles Chapter of the R. O. A. U. S., who compared national conditions of July 3, 1929 with those of the day preceding adoption of the Declaration of Independence, and who said that destructive critics of our government today are as weak, ignorant or selfish as were those who fought the signing of the charter of America's liberty.

Pomeroy Will Explain Health Center System

In response to a request to address 5000 members of the American Medical Association on "The Los Angeles County Health Center Building Plan," Dr. John L. Pomeroy, county health officer, left yesterday for Portland, Or., to attend the national medical convention from the 8th to the 12th inst.

DR JOHN L POMEROY

That the health center building plan now is nationally recognized as the future program of the administration of public health in rural areas of the United States was pointed out by Dr. A. L. Bishop, Tennessee State health officer, in his request that Dr. Pomeroy prepare a comprehensive paper on the plan.

The plan, as inaugurated by Dr. Pomeroy in Los Angeles county in 1925, provides for decentralization by the establishment of complete health center buildings in the more densely populated outlying districts of a county.

At present there are five completely equipped institutions in Los Angeles county. The emergency hospital treatment rendered in the county has already saved many lives, according to Dr. Pomeroy.

Dr. William C. Hassler, San Francisco health officer, also will discuss the health center plan which recently has been adopted by San Francisco.

Dr. Pomeroy is motoring north accompanied by Dr. Charles L. Bennett, member of the county health department medical advisory board.

Improvements on Hotel Will Cost $200,000

Subsequent to taking over the Strand Hotel, 729 South Union street, on the 1st inst., Louis A. V. Curtis announced yesterday that more than $200,000 will be spent immediately on improvements.

Mr. Curtis, who, prior to his recent purchase of the Strand Hotel and its furnishings, was a resident of San Francisco, has operated hotels during the last thirty-two years in Mexico and Central America.

Among his foreign holdings were the Sanz Hotel, Mexico City; the San Diego Hotel, Cuatla, Mex.; the Presidential Palace Hotel, Guatemala, and the International Casino, San Salvador.

With Mr. Curtis in the operation of the Strand will be John A. Klein, a cousin of Mrs. Curtis, who will act as assistant manager, and Miss Tillie Meyer, hostess.

Old Assessment Scheme Revived

A special committee consisting of Councilmen Burns, Davis and Lewis, to see the Mayor and attempt to work out a plan with the parks, playgrounds and library departments whereby these divisions of the city government will pay their own assessments on improvements, was created yesterday on motion of Mr. Burns.

Several Councilmen from the former body referred to prior efforts which were fruitless, but Mr. Burns said that inasmuch as Mayor Porter is preparing a new deal on the several commissions, his wishes in the matter, if he sided with the Council, might over-ride precedent.

CITY PLANNERS TO MEET

The midyear meeting and luncheon of the Association of City Planners of Los Angeles County will be held at Elysian Park at noon on the 13th inst., it was announced yesterday by J. A. Mellen, secretary-treasurer. An official welcome will be extended H. A. Tibbets, newly appointed city forester, and the meeting then will be devoted to a discussion of street-tree planting programs.

VENICE PIER GAMES CITED BY MINISTER

Pastor Tells Board That Gambling Flourishes in Playground Area

Complaint that gambling is in full blast again at certain concessions on the Venice pier was made to the Playground and Recreation Commission yesterday by Rev. B. L. Jennings, of Venice, who stated he was authorized by the Church Federation of Los Angeles to ask the commission to take action to stop the asserted practice.

The petitioner said he planned to appear before the Police Commission at its next meeting to draw attention to conditions on the pier.

The playground commissioners were dubious of their jurisdiction in the matter, since the Venice Amusement Company, operator of the pier, leases it from the State and the city. It was decided to appeal to the City Attorney for a ruling on the board's jurisdiction.

A year ago the Police Commission revoked the licenses of a dozen concessions on the ground that they were games of chance and not games of skill. Since that time the commission has had inspectors pass on new games to be sure that they are those of skill before granting permits.

According to Mr. Jennings patrons of concessions now are gambling on the outcome of results in the games of skill.

BOLD BANDIT ROBS STORE OF JEWELS

He Ties Up Three Persons in Hollywood Boulevard Shop and Gets $5050

An unmasked young bandit walked into the jewelry store of J. Vanden Akker, 6328 Hollywood Boulevard, at 10:30 a.m. yesterday and after binding the hands of three employees in the store escaped with a wallet containing $50 in cash and approximately $5000 in diamonds.

Neatly attired and carrying a .38-caliber revolver in his hand, the youth boldly walked into the store and lined up H. G. Rosentahl, watchmaker; N. Borgensen, jeweler, and Miss Carol Shaw, clerk, and told them to cross their hands behind their backs. Each complied and the bandit bound them.

The man marched to the safe and without hesitation picked the wallet containing the money and jewels. No trace of him has been found.

Texas Gun Girl, Rudell Heath, in Another Jam

Rudell Heath, 21-year-old Texas "gun girl," yesterday extended her Los Angeles criminal court record by another appearance when she was arraigned before Municipal Judge Ballard on three forgery charges. The court, at the request of her attorney, S. S. Hahn, set next Wednesday as the date for her preliminary hearing.

Miss Heath, whose first appearance in the courts here ended with a $1 fine for taking five shots at an asserted suitor in a Hollywood drug store on New Year's Day, 1928, since has been found guilty of several misdemeanor charges. She has been sought since June, 1928, on the felony charge on which she was arrested Tuesday evening at Central Police Station, where she went to settle a dispute with Garrett P. Rider, 1448 South Alvarado street, over her younger sister, Bernice, whom Rider wished to return to Miss Heath's mother at Jacksonville, Tex. Miss Heath gave her residence as 410 North Coronado street.

Negro Social Workers Will be Entertained

The arrival today of two negroes nationally known in social betterment service is awaited with interest by social workers of both the white and colored races in Los Angeles. The men are Eugene Knickle Jones and T. Arnold Hill, who occupy prominent places in the National Urban League, an organization with units in every large city in America.

A mass meeting at the First Methodist Episcopal Church at Eighth and Hope streets will be conducted at 3 p.m. Sunday, in which both colored and white social workers will take part. A public banquet to which both white and colored citizens have been invited will be held at the Young Men's Christian Association branch at 1006 East Twenty-eighth street tomorrow at 8 p.m.

The two colored men will be met at the Central Station by a group of social workers headed by Lieut.-Col. Leroy F. Smith of the Better America Federation of California.

BUSINESS EDUCATORS INVITED TO CONGRESS

Frank D. MacKay, president of MacKay Colleges, yesterday received an announcement of the International Congress on Commercial Education to be held in Amsterdam, Holland, in September. Eighty subjects are on the program and the speakers will represent ten European countries as well as countries of North and South America. Among those invited to represent the United States at the congress are Clay D. Slinker, director of commercial education, Des Moines, Iowa; Leverett S. Lyon, Washington, D. C.; Dr. Henry Hatfield, Berkeley; Louis K. Manly and James H. Green, Pittsburgh; C. M. Yoder, Whitewater, Wis., and W. J. Donald, New York. John Robert Gregg, internationally known authority on shorthand, will attend.

ANOTHER EATON IS IN PICTURES

Frank Ross, Millionaire Boy, Wins Role With Lasky; Zasu Pitts Takes Big Comedy Part in "Nanette;" Universal Engages Popular Singer as Lead

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Completing the whole set of Eatons, Joe Eaton, brother of Mary, Charles, et al., arrived in Hollywood last night, and is planning to enter talking pictures, probably via Fox studio, although this is not yet entirely settled.

Joe Eaton is the youngest of the six Eaton children. He has been attending the University of Pennsylvania, and his only claim to histrionic honors so far is that he appeared in his class play in June and that as a baby he appeared on the stage in infant roles.

The other young members of the clan Eaton are Mary, Doris, Pearl, Evelyn and Charles, all of whom are now or have been in the acting profession. With their mother, they are living in a Hollywood home.

WEALTHY YOUTH HAS NICE PICTURE ROLE

Frank Ross, millionaire New York real estate dealer who is abandoning his business for the lure of the screen, has returned to Hollywood from New York, and was yesterday assigned his first film role.

FRANK ROSS

The youth, a graduate of Princeton, will portray the manager of a prep school football team in "Sweetie," it was announced yesterday at the Paramount studios.

The contract was signed several weeks ago when Ross was vacationing in Southern California, following his meeting with Jesse L. Lasky, and the latter's invitation for a screen test. Ross, it appears, has a beautifully trained singing voice. Following the screen test, the young actor was given a contract.

Another important member of the cast, signed yesterday, was Stewart Erwin, who is under contract to Fox, but who was loaned for this picture.

Lester Cole With M.-G.-M.

That engaging young vocal artist, Lester Cole, who has pleased on the stage in "Good News" and other musical productions, has signed with Franklin Warner for musical and talking pictures to be released through Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

The pictures will comprise a series of twelve short-reel subjects, one of which has already been made.

Cole was originally brought west from New York about two years ago by Lillian Albertson to appear in a number of musical productions, and has been busy ever since.

Ruth Elder Will Fly

Taking a plane up for a trip is to Ruth Elder what taking a street car is to most of us—just nothing at all. However, she and her admirers are getting somewhat of a thrill out of the fact that the aviatrix is to fly in the air races to be held at Cleveland in August.

RUTH ELDER

Miss Elder expects to fly a plane from here to the Ohio city, leaving within a week or two. When she finishes the racing stunt she will return to pictures.

Universal Signs Youngster

Another young player from the varieties and musical comedies has been captured for the talking pictures.

He is Scott Kolk, who has been signed by Universal, and who will take the leading masculine role opposite Laura La Plante in "One Rainy Night," which Emmett Flynn is to direct.

Kolk is said to have a very pleasant singing and speaking voice, and to be good looking enough to worry some of the other picture sheiks.

Zasu Pitts in "Nanette"

Life is one merry First National comedy role after another for Zasu Pitts. Miss Pitts is now working with Irene Bordoni in "Paris." When she finishes that part she will go right into the part of the comic maid in "No, No, Nanette," which is to have Bernice Clair, the youngest prima donna in America, in the title role.

ZASU PITTS

Louise Fazenda and Lucien Littlefield are others who have been signed for the motion-picture version of the popular musical comedy, which is to be made in Technicolor.

William Beaudine will direct the picture, which is of course to be a Vitaphone production.

Jean Arthur Is Cast

Jean Arthur won't be allowed to spend much time on the beach during the present spell of hot weather. Instead she is to be shut into one of those sound-proof rooms at the Paramount studios.

JEAN ARTHUR

The actress has been cast for the ingenue lead in Evelyn Brent's picture, "Darkened Rooms," according to word received yesterday. The story is by Sir Philip Gibbs, as you have already been told, and Louis Gasnier will direct.

Neil Hamilton has the leading masculine role in the picture, which is to be a talker.

Irving Cummings Vacations

Just as soon as Irving Cummings decides on his next story for Fox, he is going to flit with his family in care-free fashion up to the High Sierras for a vacation.

Yesterday he was in the throes of deciding between three stories. When he chooses he will be through with work until September 1, and then will return to film the feature.

PROBATE BOND LARGE

One for $4,500,000 Filed in Case of Grace Harris Estate

One of the largest probate bonds recently filed in Los Angeles county was ordered recorded yesterday in connection with the probating of the estimated $5,000,000 estate of Mrs. Grace Harris.

The bond has been written in the name of Charles C. Webber, president of Deer & Webber of Minneapolis, for $4,500,000. Mr. Webber is executor of the Harris estate. Underwriting was placed with Wheeler Brothers & Pierce of Los Angeles, in its capacity as general agent for the Globe Indemnity Company of Newark, N. J., by Marsh & McLenon, general insurance brokers. Wheeler Brothers & Pierce is a subsidiary of Rule & Sons.

The Harris estate consists of cash, securities and real estate in Los Angeles county.

CARTHAY WILL SHOW 'DYNAMITE'

Story by Jeanie McPherson Scheduled for Theater in July

Although not intended for release until November, announcement comes that Harold B. Franklin, president of West Coast Theaters, has informed Carli Elinor, managing director of the Fox Carthay Circle Theater, that through a special arrangement with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer the Carthay Circle will have the honor of housing the world premiere of Cecil B. De Mille's first M.-G.-M. superproduction, "Dynamite," starting the 25th inst.

A little over three years ago De Mille's other great feature, "The Volga Boatman," was selected as the opening attraction for the Circle, and enjoyed a successful run.

In "Dynamite" Franklin and his staff believe they have one of the greatest all-talking features, if not the greatest, that has been produced. It marks De Mille's return to the exotic, luxurious sets and gowns which made his reputation in such pictures as "Manslaughter," "Male and Female" and "Why Change Your Wife." The story is by Jeanie McPherson.

Noted people of stage and screen are divided in the cast of this feature. Charles Bickford and Kay Johnson have appeared on New York's Broadway for years, while Conrad Nagel and Julia Faye need no introduction to picturegoers. Other players in the production include Joel McCrea, Muriel McCormac, Robert Edeson, Tyler Brooke, Leslie Fenton, Barton Hepburn and Ernest Hilliard.

New Mayan Play Brings Talent From New York

Felix Young, who is presenting Helen Menken and William Boyd in "Top o' the Hill" at the Mayan Theater Monday night, has garnered 100 per cent Broadway talent for his new Los Angeles production.

Helen Menken and William Boyd, the stars, can be traced by their activities in New York for the past ten seasons, with each in the principal roles of scores of international hits in successive years. Miss Menken achieved her greatest recognition as the creator of the oppressed girl in "Seventh Heaven" and Boyd's memorable performance as the original Sergt. Quirt in "What Price Glory" also won him much recognition.

To support his principals Young obtained Hilda Vaughn, last year's star of "Tampico," and Anderson Lawler, one of the active juveniles of the eastern stage; Alden Gay, formerly of the Greenwich Village Follies; Kate Campbell, veteran character actress, John Webb Dillon and Ida Darling, two Gotham regulars, and Jean Temple and Russell Morrison.

Monday night's premiere looms as the event of the season with hundreds of the New York players swelling the first night audience, according to reservations at the Mayan Theater.

Billie Dove to Resume Typical American Parts

For the first time in almost a year Billie Dove will be seen in the part of a typical American girl in her latest talking picture, "The Man and the Moment," with Rod Larocque, starting at the Hillstreet Saturday.

Without exception, Miss Dove's characterizations during the past year have been of a foreign nature, and in the story written for her by Elinor Glyn she is declared to enact anew the type of role that brought her to screen prominence.

The current all-talking picture, "The Squall," with Alice Joyce, Myrna Loy, Richard Tucker and others, ends its engagement tomorrow night.

Glenn Tryon Has Varied Career

If a richly varied background of theatrical experience is the best training for a film career, then Glenn Tryon, who essays the role of Roy Lane, cabaret hoofer extraordinary in Universal's production of "Broadway," now on view at the Biltmore Theater, is especially well-suited for stardom, it is said.

Tryon, who is now taking the leading role in "Barnum Was Right," began his kaleidoscopic career at the Auditorium Stock Company in Spokane. In addition, he has played comedy roles with the Horace Murphy Comedians in a traveling tent show.

Tryon started his picture career four years ago when he closed with a stage production and came to Hollywood to act for the screen. He was signed to portray leading roles for Hal Roach. After a term of two-reelers, he entered the feature field with "Painting the Town," a full-length Universal comedy production.

STUDIO STORY BEGINS

"The Studio Murder Mystery," said to be the year's best and most exciting murder tale, starts at the Fox Westlake tomorrow for a showing of three days. Announcement is made that Raymond McKee will also be seen on the forthcoming bill in a special all-talking comedy, "Zip! Boom! Bang!" and another special film will be the Metro Movietone revue. "Thru Different Eyes," with Warner Baxter, Edmund Lowe, Mary Duncan and Earle Fox featured, closes at the Fox Westlake tonight.

FIGUEROA SHOWS TALKIE

Something entirely new and different in the matter of mystery stories comes to the talking screen at the Fox Figueroa in "Through Different Eyes," Fox Movietone production, directed by John Blystone. The title is self-explanatory for the basic theme is the summary of a murder case as revealed through the eyes of a prosecutor, a defense lawyer and eventually a mysterious girl.

Another Mystery Film Looms

Marceline Day

Is one of the featured players in the comedy of spooky doings, "Trent's Last Case," which will have its first showing today at the Boulevard Theater.

DUFFY STARTS PLAY SOON

Dale Winter and Henry Duffy have set the 14th inst. as the date for the premiere of "The First Year," Frank Craven's comedy, in which they will costar with the Henry Duffy Players at El Capitan.

Pressure of business affairs has kept the actor-producer from appearing on the stage since the engagement of "The Patsy" here, with the exception of a brief return last autumn in San Francisco, when Miss Winter and he appeared in "In Love With Love." El Capitan engagement is limited to four weeks only.

"The First Year" is said to be a wholesome, amusing story of the small-town youth who wooes and weds the girl of his choice and takes her off to Missouri, to live. Miss Winter will have an appealing role as the girl, while Mr. Duffy will have an excellent comedy part as Tommy Tucker, the bashful suitor.

The supporting cast for the play will include Lloyd Neal, well-known character actor, who will portray the father; Florence Roberts, a favorite, who will be seen as the mother, and Ray L. Royce, as the doctor. George Leffingwell, last seen in "The Bad Man," will be the rival suitor and Olive Cooper will take the part of Hattie, the maid. The promoter and his wife will be acted by Edward Lynch and Ann Little.

Dialogue Film Commences at Loew's State

Earl Derr Biggers, author of "Seven Keys to Baldpate" and other mystery plays, penned "Behind That Curtain," the story which will be revealed at Loew's State today as a Fox Movietone all-dialogue screen drama.

Romance is said to be dominant in the story, which has for its plot the love of the man for another's wife. In the deserts of India, with solitude constituting a powerful allure, the story is told.

This is the second outdoor talking drama to feature Warner Baxter, star of "In Old Arizona." It was directed by Irving Cummings. Lois Moran and Gilbert Emery are equally prominent in the cast. The picture was chosen as the vehicle to open the palatial new Fox Theater in San Francisco last Thursday. It was filmed almost in its entirety in Death Valley.

Fanchon and Marco offer as the stage part of the new show "Dance Moods," a light and colorful warm-weather attraction. Rube Wolf will be master of ceremonies and Gus Mulcay, Earl Askam, Betty and Ramon, Nadine and the Hirsch Arnold Girls are featured.

Lettice Howell to Support Ted Lewis on Bill

Lettice Howell, late featured soprano with "My Maryland" and New York's "Music Box Revue," shares supporting honors on the new Orpheum bill starting Saturday with Maurice Colleano, acrobatic dancing comedian, and Herb Williams, vaudeville's inimitable buffoon, held over a second week by popular request. Ted Lewis and his musical klowns with Eleanor Brooks and Arline Langan headline the show.

Howell, making her debut in vaudeville, will present a diversified song program, including the "Mad Scene" from "Lucia" and Steinert's "Plantation." Herbert Goode, concert pianiste, accompanies her. Colleano, always popular here, appears with a comedy dance revue. Four other comics will assist Williams.

Original Score Features Film

The only motion-picture synchronized with an all-original musical score, according to reports, will be "The Mysterious Island" soon to be released by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer entirely in technicolor. Martin Broones, composer, has arranged the novel score for the picture, synchronizing it as a background of musical fantasy even in the dialogue sequences.

CHEVALIER'S OPUS ENDS

The final showings of Maurice Chevalier's latest screen triumph, "Innocents of Paris," take place at the Fox Uptown today and tonight. Announcement is made that starting tomorrow and continuing until Sunday the theater will offer "His Captive Woman," featuring Milton Sills and Dorothy Mackaill. "His Captive Woman" is a colorful tale of a New York police officer who is sent to the South Seas to bring back an escaped woman convict. Fox Movietone news and latest Vitaphone acts are included on the programs.

'Gamblers' Cast Has Experience on Local Stage

Every member of the cast of "The Gamblers," the latest Warner Brothers Vitaphone production, that starts at Warner Brothers' Theater Monday, has had stage experience, many of them having appeared on the stages of theaters in Los Angeles and Hollywood. The story itself is an adaptation to the screen, from the stage success of the same name by Charles Klein.

Appearing in the leading role of James Darwin, is H. B. Warner, recognized as a distinguished actor of the stage, and Lois Wilson, a favorite, has the leading feminine part. Jason Robards also is known on the stage, as is Johnny Arthur and Pauline Garon.

Completing this cast are three veterans of the stage who have also appeared in motion pictures for many years, but whose previous stage training fits them for service in the talkies, George Fawcett, Frank Campeau and Charles Sellon. "Noah's Ark," the Warner Brothers Vitaphone production that is having its first popular run, is now in its last week at Warner Brothers' Theater.

Clara Bow Seen in Circus Film at Paramount

Clara Bow makes her bow at the Paramount Theater today in her second all-talking picture, "Dangerous Curves."

Richard Arlen, who is rapidly establishing himself as a talking-picture player of the first rank, plays opposite Miss Bow in a strong role which gives him more opportunity to display his talents than any previous part, it is said.

Lothar Mendes directed "Dangerous Curves" from an original story by Lester Cohn. Supporting Miss Bow and Arlen are May Boley, Kay Frances, David Newell, T. Roy Barnes, Charles D. Brown and Anders Randolph. James Barton, New York stage star, is seen in a dramatic and funny one-act play on the Movietone. Lillian Roth, Broadway musical comedy favorite, also appears with her "Piano Boys" in an elaborate short musical revue on the screen. Milton Charles offers a new concert of organ numbers.

Edwards Casts Film Stars in "School Days"

Casting probably will be completed today for "School Days," Gus Edwards's vaudeville novelty to be portrayed by cinema celebrities at the Saturday midnight matinee of the "Hollywood Revue of 1929," in Grauman's Chinese Theater.

Edwards has invited Ukulele Ike to play the stuttering kid; Buster Keaton, the dunce; Benny Rubin, "Pat Levy;" Oliver Hardy, the tough kid, and William Haines, Bobby Watson, Billy Bakewell and Arthur Lake, "Boston beans."

Stars of the feminine sex from whom the school girls will be selected include Joan Crawford, Renee Adoree, Polly Moran, Mary Doran, Anita Page, Sally Starr, Armida, Joyce Murray, Leila Hyams, Marie Dressler, the Duncan sisters and Louise Groody.

DEMPSEY TO APPEAR AT PANTAGES

Former Champion to Offer Vaudeville Skit Written by Willard Mack

The most unusual character in the history of boxing comes to the Pantages Theater as the headline attraction Saturday.

It is Jack Dempsey, former world's heavyweight champion, who will be seen and heard in person and on the screen, in a comedy playlet specially written for him by that prolific writer, Willard Mack. This vaudeville skit is said to take for its theme the highlights of Dempsey's career. It starts with short film shorts of the Firpo and Tunney fights. Then the screen lifts revealing Dempsey on the stage in a semi-humorous-serious role indicative of his past fighting successes and what his personal desire is for the future.

The balance of the vaudeville program next week is headed by the pretty and clever Hollywood Starlets and their director; then Ketch and Wilma, harpists; Alma and Duvall company, the sensational dancers, finishing wih Roxy La Rocca, ventriloquist. The feature picture, a Columbia talkie, is "The Flying Marine" with Ben Lyon and Shirley Mason.

Friday's performances mark the close of Douglas Fairganks in his mighty screen achievement, "The Iron Mask."

Actor Drawls Naturally in Belasco Play

G. Albert Smith, who portrays the role of the jilted lover in "Coquette," the stage play in which Helen Hayes is effectively starred at the Belasco, need make no apology for his southern accent. Smith is a native of Louisville, Ky. He made a few furtive and futile gestures in the theater, stock and otherwise, just prior to the war, and afterward atempted vaudeville. These were of so undistinguished a nature that his father brought him back to the hearth and placed him behind a cigar counter in his native city.

After three seasons of this he took the part of a bogus English duke in "The Fortune Hunter" effectively. Smith then went back to New York, where he appeared for the first time in "Rita Coventry," and then with Marjorie Rambeau in "As You Like It." Smith has been in the cast of "Coquette" since the night of its premiere at Maxine Elliott's Theater in New York, November, 1927.

Talking Picture Scheduled for United Artists

Her first talking role and her first modern role all in the same picture—these deviations are said to add interest to "This is Heaven," Vilma Banky's second starring picture for Samuel Goldwyn, which will start at the United Artists Theater Wednesday.

The Hungarian star is one of the few foreign actresses to appear in talkies, and her voice is said to be a fascinating one, with just enough accent to add interest. The accent is said to be necessary to her characterization in "This is Heaven," for in this film she portrays a little Hungarian girl who comes to this country to become a modern young American. Her "Americanization" includes the acquisition of a job as a flapjack flipper in a Fifth-avenue cafe, and the picture includes humorous and dramatic incidents as Vilma finds romance as a result of her adept "flipping."

James Hall plays opposite the blond star, and this is also his first talking vehicle. Lucien Littlefield and Fritzi Ridgeway have prominent roles as the uncle and cousin who care for the little peasant when she arrives in this country.

Dreier Given Contract to Design Sets

Hans Dreier, designer of spectacular settings for motion pictures, has signed a new contract with Paramount-Famous-Lasky as an art director under Van Nest Polglaze. His first work under the new contract will be the designing of the sets used in "The Love Parade," which Ernst Lubitsch will direct with Maurice Chevalier in the starring role.

Dreier first became associated with Paramount in Berlin, where he designed sets used in a number of productions made at the Ufa studios. He came to the United States in October of 1923 and, after serving as art director for the Pola Negri starring film, "Forbidden Paradise," a Lubitsch production, he was sent to Hollywood, where he has since remained.

MYSTERY FILM STARTS

"Thru Different Eyes" starts tonight at the Fox Ritz for a three-day showing. This is a William Fox all-talking attraction, featuring Edmund Lowe, Warner Baxter and Mary Duncan, and has been hailed as one of the outstanding mystery sensations of the year. Lowe and Baxter are featured together for the first time since "In Old Arizona," and "Thru Different Eyes" marks the first appearance of Mary Duncan since "Four Devils." Fox Movietone news and talkie skits complete the current Fox Ritz bill.

"AEROBUGS" ARGUE

The Aerobugs is the name given a group that gathers each day in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio restaurant to argue on aviation. Clarence Brown and George Hill, directors; Wallace Beery, Buster Keaton and Paul Hurst, actors, are all aviators, drive their planes for pleasure and argue daily about the merits of their machines and their feats in the air.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

Among the many interesting events of the last few days in college circles is the twenty-ninth biennial convention of Pi Beta Phi Sorority which is taking place at the Huntington in Pasadena and which has attracted to our midst almost 1000 members from all over the country, including four of the six living founders, two of them traveling from the Pacific Northwest and two from Illinois as special guests of honor of the Greek letter fraternity. Pi Beta Phi was organized in 1867 at Monmouth, Ill. There have been many attractive features of interest including a model initiation last Sunday night conducted by the grand officers, the model initiate being Mrs. Lloyd Wright of Hollywood, who became a member of the chapter at University of California at Los Angeles. Monday night was devoted to the Settlement School of the sorority, located in Gatlinsburg, Tenn., which is Pi Beta Phi's national philanthropic activity, supported by active chapters and alumnae.

Representatives from every national Pan Hellenic sorority were guests for the dinner and evening's program.

Tuesday evening was Plat-night for the delegates, and a costume party and barbecue dinner on the spacious lawns of the Huntington followed by clever stunts in the convention hall put on by chapters of each fraternity province formed some of the most delightful features of the activities.

Yesterday afternoon the Los Angeles alumnae club took the delegates on a tour of Hollywood, Beverly Hills and the two universities. The ride included a stop at a studio and a sight of the Pacific Ocean, a treat for some of the eastern visitors, who are here for the first time. In the evening the Pasadena Community Players produced "Why Not," at their playhouse for the entertainment of the visitors. The activities will conclude with a formal banquet this evening. Local members of the sorority who are helping toward the success of the convention as chairmen of various committees include Mrs. Walter Burbank, Mrs. Warren T. Smith, Mrs. P. M. Young, Mrs. Donald Forker, Mrs. Frank Rehm, Mrs. Ward Henry, Mrs. H. J. Vesper, Miss Julia Jacobson and Miss Evalyn Ross.

Delightful Affair

One of the enjoyable affairs of recent date was the luncheon and bridge with which Miss Barbara Godfrey of 909 South Orange Grove avenue entertained at the Mary Louise, the tables being arranged in the Chinese Room, each one centered with a colorful bouquet of summer blossoms. Attractive place cards marked the covers for the hostess, Miss Betty Jane Cox, Miss Margaret Grace, Miss Dale Ruble, Miss Jane Grannis, Miss Mary Barrett, Miss Barbara Campbell, Miss Phyllis McMullen, Miss Florence Kahn, Miss Jimmy Thorne, Miss Marie Johnson, Miss Wanda Pike, Miss Marjorie Roth, Miss Jane Paris, Miss Vere Fahy, Miss Jane Leighton, Miss Virginia Childs, Miss Helen Thornwald, Miss Lylian Gubin, Miss Martha Godfrey and Mrs. Ernest Godfrey.

Bridge Tea

Miss Esther Beer of Arlington avenue was the charming hostess at a beautifully appointed bridge tea at her home Saturday afternoon, the guests being Alpha Xi Delta and Sigma Pi Delta Sorority sisters at University of California at Los Angeles, from which the hostess was just graduated.

Twenty-four guests were bidden. The decorations were carried out in pink and white blossoms and a profusion of ferns.

Summering Here

Among the interesting visitors to the Southland this summer are Mr. and Mrs. M. D. O'Brien of San Leandro, who are visiting with the latter's sister, Miss Carolyn Moore, and their many friends in Los Angeles and vicinity.

The O'Briens have just returned from their honeymoon trip of a year abroad. They visited in Africa, where Mr. O'Brien hunted up the Congo, then on up the Indian Ocean, through the Suez and they passed the Christmas holidays in Palestine, then on to Cario and upper Egypt. They took the Mediterranean cruise and motored all over Europe, especially enjoying the winter sports in the Swiss Alps, and an airplane trip across the English Channel, arriving in the United States in time for the inaugural ceremonies in Washington, D. C., last March. They then went to Detroit and motored to the Coast. Mrs. O'Brien formerly was Miss Grace E. Lillie, social service director here for the Mexican government, and attached to the Mexican Consulate for five years. She also was an employee for several years of the Treasury Department here and later became well known in San Francisco and Los Angeles in social service and welfare work.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien are only temporarily at their homefi 2279 Lake Shore avenue, where the latter is engaged in preparing a book of poetry for early publication. She is a member of the Scribbler's League and of the Poetry and Music Club.

Gone Abroad

Miss Ann Flynn of 92 North Los Robles avenue, Pasadena, left Sunday for an extended trip abroad. She plans to pass some time in the British Isles, visiting with relatives and friends, before crossing to the Continent, returning to Pasadena about the end of August.

Smart Affair

Members of the Kappa Kappa Sorority entertained recently with a dinner-dance at the Cocoanut Grove, Ambassador, in honor of Miss Bobs Hoagland, retiring president. The table was beautifully decorated in the sorority colors of red and white, and gardenia corsages were at each place. During the evening, the girls presented Miss Hoagland with an inscribed gold anklet.

Among those enjoying the evening were: Misses Bobs Hoagland, Dorothye Gee, Buddie Daggett, Rusty Taliaferro, Alieen Miller, Jerry La Fon, Alice Caruthers, Bette Martin, Virginia Morrison, Dorothy Mills, Gertrude Curtner, Ruth Leitch, Bernice Teitze, Inez Marion, Eddie Bacon, Florence Tennyson, Lorraine Mills, Gladys Wetherly, Bertha Lingle, Messrs. Douglas Metcalf, Ronni Burla, C. T. Mayes, Willis Benson, Harold Thompson, Garfield Leon, James Rogers, George Curtner, Larry Howell, Craig Leitch, Frank Brooks, Bud Wadsworth, Elsworth Metz, Ted Lucas, Sonny Wetherly and Curt Dieterle.

At the Beach

An enjoyable affair of the week was the interesting luncheon and bridge with which Mrs. Arthur Hayt of Hollywood entertained at the Sea Breeze Club, Santa Monica, her guests including Mrs. W. W. Mackay, Mrs. Carl Young, Mrs. William Shearer, Mrs. A. W. Malcolmson, Miss Helen Gibbs, Miss Gertrude Williams and Miss Lulu Lanterman.

College Girl Helps Convention Succeed

[Ray Huff studios]

Miss Janet McCoy

AMONG the interesting events in college circles of the country is the annual convention of Pi Beta Phi Sorority at the Huntington this week, when delegates from all the various chapters, both active and alumnae, are enjoying the reunion and activities. A prominent member who is especially active is Miss Janet McCoy, attractive daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James David McCoy (Alice Shaw) of 340 South Lucerne Boulevard, and granddaughter of Judge and Mrs. Victor Edward Shaw of Severance street.

Miss McCoy, who was graduated from Marlborough School and now is one of the outstanding members on the campus at University of Southern California, is representing the interests of California Gamma of Pi Beta Phi at the convention, which began June 30 and closes its sessions tomorrow.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby sleeping, walking, teething, thumb-suckling, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

MOTHERS NEED TO DEVELOP CASUAL ATTITUDES

The attitude that mothers have, even when carrying out methods which should by their correctness result in success, are so tense and determined that they defeat their own purposes. Even if the mother pretends she is indifferent to William's failure to take a nap, her voice, her actions belie this.

We have in mind also the mother whose child is addicted to temper tantrums. She has, so she says, tried everything. She has ignored him. She has tried to make him laugh. She has diverted his attention. But each has resulted in failure. Why? Because underneath it all the child knows only too well, that his mother isn't ignoring him. She is too elaborately indifferent. It doesn't ring true. He knows she is terribly upset. And so when he wants to be in the center of the arena he has a tantrum.

Then we have the familiar toilet situation common to almost every home. The child who has been trained, suddenly begins wetting or soiling his clothes even though, as they all say mournfully: "He knows better, he knows what an awful thing it is."

Just so long as these actions bring forth such exciting responses, just so long will the child continue them. Scolding, pleading, shaming him, offering rewards merely serve to remind him that he has it within his power to be a most upsetting individual.

Likewise at the table if he refuses to eat. The mother says: "I put him down. I let him stay at the table until I have to warm his food over. Still he would rather not eat than feed himself."

In some way this child wants to assert himself. He has found this method effective. He'll continue it until his assertiveness is directed in other channels.

In the above situations, the mother is trying to show the child something. What she does show him, in almost every case, is that he can, at will, manipulate home events to suit himself. He can, if he wants to, "kick up a big racket." He sits like a cat licking his chops as he listens to his mother's tirades against him. He hears her pour forth her complaints to his father and rehearse his exploits in misbehavior to her sympathetic relatives. "How terrible! My dear, I should think you would tear your hair out." Instead of being ashamed of his conduct, he is thoroughly exhilarated at all the attention he gets.

"Don't you want to be a nice boy?" his mother demands almost tearfully. "Wouldn't you like to have everyone love you, as they do Cousin Johnny, who eats his meals so nicely and never gives his mother a bit of trouble?" Of course he wouldn't, not when being a bad little boy is so exciting.

Mothers should learn to be casual, the sort of casualness common to nursemaids, who are indifferent because they feel no personal responsibilities for a child's bad habits or manners. When this is the situation, the child soon discovers the game isn't worth the candle, for there are no fireworks.

The New in Stores & Homes

Noveltles, Ideas, and Suggestions

By OLIVE GRAY

Hail, B.P.O.E.! Whose initials stand for best of human principles. Benevolent—from the Latin bene, meaning well, and volens, wishing; and the word benevolens, well-wishing; defined as "having or manifesting a desire to do good, possessing or characterized by love toward humanity." And protective, caring for and helping the weak or the needy. Such qualities, rightly interpreted, are at the foundation of all that is best in the human heart, individually or collectively. Royal—super-royal, the purple representing such qualities—qualities reaching far deeper than mere jollity and fraternal conviviality. Let's all join the B.P.O.E.—in the spirit of their initials.

Stockings Hold Their Own

Stockings, battling for continued life, against the bare vogue, have come out so lacy as to be almost invisible. Thus may they hold their own—that "own" being the feet that they regard as their legitimate possession—despite the lure of sox, anklettes and bares.

Painted Deserts

One of the girls, devoted to bares, is planning to paint double arrows up the back of her ankles, as an added deception to the passing eye.

Editha's Suggestion

Editha, always original, suggests that we carry our hose in our hands, as gloves have been carried for some seasons—just to prove that we possess them and are not merely economizing by going bare.

Fashion's Sophistry

Probably there is nothing in the fashion propaganda that garters impede circulation. Any argument to gain her ends, is the feminine logic of fashion, and the garter diagnosis proves its contention for bareleggedness.

Tweeds Go Double

From the vogue of tweeds in shaded tints, for coats, it was but a step—and a modish step—to two tones of fabric in the fashioning of these garments. Many of the new coats have the materials combined, in a lighter and a darker tone of tweed. For travel, principally, are these coats of tweed; and a sensible mode is this, since the warmth of wool and the lightness of silk—almost—are combined in the single wrap, most convenient for traveling.

Black to White?

Fashion is taking on another reversion, in the world of handkerchiefs. After sounding the high-color note to the verlest overtones, white has again come in. White, in the finest, softest, most dainty of linen; white embroidered painstakingly; white costly and obviously excellent—or not at all. Does this foreshadow the return of the "Queen's lace handkerchief?" Very likely, for handwork is certain to lead further along the paths of loveliness.

Airy Fairy

As if organdy, in itself were not sufficiently airy, it has gone into partnership with tulle, for summery evening wear. Absolutely fairyish are frocks fashioned from these two immaterials. One in water-lily white, seen at the so-metropolitan store, that store so New Yorkish, was made with a closely fitted waist, and an elongated skirt, each flounce edged with tulle, as also was the waist wherever might be. The slip, underneath, also was edged with tulle, and adorned with bouquets of tiny made-made flowers, the same garniture enlivening the waist—the basque, I was about to say, for this old-time mode reappears here, save that the waist is attached, forming an integral part of the dress.

But Still Color

The white vogue in handkerchiefs, does not mean that color has gone out, from the realm of these. In fact, there is a trend toward as keen differentiation here as in the world of shoes and hosiery, handkerchiefs for sports wear, those for dress, and others for evening, each as distinctive as are other accessories for occasions. And dress-wise is she who observes these distinctions.

Wantable

Don't you love those articles of old California furniture? So sturdy and so pioneerish, with their ironed-on corners and their tile tops to tables, cupboards and other pieces. Of course you covet an entire suite of these, but it is shown in the placement of individual pieces, throughout the aisles of that great furniture store, that one may successfully use one piece, or several, since they not only fit in well with other furnishings, but add distinction to their associates.

New Backless Ways

One way of backlessing your frock, is to place ties from each shoulder, bowing them together directly above the opening. Another is to strap the back, from shoulder to shoulder, buttoning the straps in the middle, with fastenings either visibly ornamental or not to be seen at all.

Even Shirt Blouses

So ubiquitous is the bow, that even the plain shirt-blouse takes on a big bow, either of self-material or in silken contrast, posing this completement directly above the vest-place in front.

Technique of Hats

Technically, the broad-brimmed hat should be worn only with the flounced and fluffy frock—one distended in some of Fashion's many ways; and the head-hugger, with the straight-line dress. But, many are the violations of this code. In fact, so wedded are we to the small, comf'y hat, that we incline to wear it upon any or all hat-occasions, regardless of Fashion's code.

GUIDING YOUR CHILD

AN UNWITTING CRUELTY

By Mrs. Agnes Lyne

Ever since March I have promised my little girl that she might visit her grandmother on the farm as soon as school was out. For weeks now she has been talking about the barn, the woolly lambs, the calves and the baby chickens.

She has looked forward to gathering strawberries from the garden patch. She has been jubilant at the prospect of paddling barefoot in the brook that runs by the house.

Now it is impossible for her to go. How shall I tell her? I have a bad conscience, for I know that I should not have allowed her to build with such certain faith upon a joy which the advantage of my years should have reminded me was not absolutely certain to eventuate. Her tears and disappointment are of my making.

Of course I shall use the occasion, somewhat lamely, to help her learn a little of the art of keeping a stiff upper lip. I shall tell her that sometimes things don't come out right, no matter how much we try and no matter how much we care; that we must pretend it is not so bad and think of something it would be fun to do.

Disappointment is valuable to children only in small carefully regulated doses. The natural course of a child's life in an adult world brings at least as much of it as is serviceable in the process of his growing up.

It is therefore wise to refrain always from telling our children of a coming pleasure far in advance of the event. For, life being the uncertain thing that it is, something may happen. The picnic, the party, the trip may not come off and our children will have suffered a wholly unnecessary and unprofitable disappointment.

New Clubhouse for Playground

From the trust fund of $50,000 provided in the will of James Slauson, Los Angeles pioneer, for playground equipment in the southeastern section of the city, a community clubhouse is to be constructed at the Slauson Playground at Hooper and Sixty-second streets.

The Playground and Recreation Commission yesterday awarded the contract to Willard Lutz on his low bid of $23,250.

The clubhouse will be of Spanish type architecture, with a large auditorium, clubrooms and other features, with a wading pool adjoining.

The board appropriated $1050 to landscape Yosemite Playground, where a new community clubhouse has been completed.

The new Ross Snyder Playground community building and the Evergreen Playground swimming pool were accepted formally from the contractors. The pool, which cost $31,500, will be dedicated formally today with a program. Mrs. W. C. Means, commissioner, was delegated to represent the board at the ceremonies.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

SALMON CUPS

Take one cupful of salmon, drain, and flake well, removing all bones and skin, two cupfuls of finely rolled cracker crumbs, two eggs, a slight seasoning of salt and paprika, mix all the ingredients together with the two well-beaten eggs, butter molds, line the sides and bottom with the salmon mixture, and break a raw egg in the center of each one, sprinkle with chopped parsley, add a small piece of butter, place the molds in a pan of hot water, set in the oven and bake until the eggs are set. Serve with a cream sauce.

SPANISH SALAD DRESSING

One teaspoonful of sugar, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-half teaspoonful of dry mustard, one teaspoonful of paprika, one tablespoonful of lemon juice, one tablespoonful of cold water, one teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce, three teaspoonfuls of ketchup, five tablespoonfuls of oil, mix the sugar, salt, mustard and paprika together, add the cold water, Worcestershire sauce and tomato ketchup, then add a drop at a time alternately with the oil and lemon juice, serve on hearts of lettuce.

PEACH AMBER

Take six peaches that have been peeled, and cut in dice, four tablespoonfuls of sugar, three tablespoonfuls of butter, one tablespoonful of lemon juice, and three eggs, soften the peaches, by stewing them slowly, mash through a sieve, add the sugar, butter, lemon juice, and yolks of the eggs well beaten; line a deep pie dish with a rich pastry, and fill with the peach mixture, place in a moderate oven, and bake until the pastry is well browned, beat the whites of the eggs to a stiff froth, make a meringue of them, add a few drops of lemon juice, pile on top of the maraschino cherries, place in a cool oven and brown.

SCALLOPED CORN BEEF

Two cupfuls of cooked corn beef, cut in cubes, one cupful of medium white sauce, three stalks of celery, chopped, one medium sized onion, chopped fine, make a white sauce, cook the celery and onion in it, add one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, place the corn beef cubes, in a shallow baking dish, cover with the sauce, sprinkle over the top buttered bread crumbs and brown in a hot oven.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

By Dr Frank McCoy
author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Dr. McCoy will answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him, care of the Los Angeles Times. Inclose stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

'RARIN' TO GO!

It is natural for us to be joyous and cheerful. It is not natural to wake up feeling tired and grouchy. A good disposition is an indication of a good digestion; a sour disposition, a sour stomach.

Instead of anticipating the day's possibilities of activity and accomplishment as a well person would, the sick person arises tired, cross and irritable. He dreads the day's problems rather than welcomes its possibilities. Yet, that tired feeling may be changed to that grand and glorious feeling if one will but take the trouble to cultivate health and the right mental attitude.

One who tires easily or becomes trembly and winded after a short walk should have a careful physical examination to discover what needs to be done to avert the impending disease, because listlessness and tiredness are two of nature's warning signals. The increasing enervation is the forerunner of disease, as it indicates that the patient's energy is gradually stealing away or being dissipated, which leaves him weaker and weaker.

A pronounced tired feeling is one of the first indications of tuberculosis, diabetes, anemia and other serious diseases, yet many times people will feel tired simply because of autointoxication, without any serious disease having yet developed.

Often, people who are cheerless and weighted with care will find that they quickly enjoy the beauty of the sky and the song of the bird after they have used a short cleansing fast and cleansing enemas which remove the poisonous toxins which were sending fatigue and irritation to the brain.

One who wishes to look at the world through rose-colored glasses must first cleanse his system of the blues of biliousness. A pure blood stream means a brain that can function naturally and given a frame of mind which makes life worth living and attracts success to us.

Endeavor to so build your health that you will wake up in the morning ready to race over the hurdles in your path, and you will find that the road to success is not difficult but easy. Success often depends upon just such a simple measure as changing that tired feeling — those worrisome blues into a feeling of pep—of being ready and rarin' to go!

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Catarrh

Question: Mrs. W. M. writes: "I would be thankful if you would tell me of a way to get rid of catarrh. Have much phlegm in my throat and severe headaches. Have had my eyes tested and properly fitted with glasses which reduce the headaches a little. Am taking—to build up, as I only weigh 102 pounds. I am 28 years old."

Answer: Do not try to put on weight while you are getting rid of catarrh. A mucusless diet will probably reduce your weight to some extent, but through following a well-balanced diet afterwards and taking vigorous physical culture exercises, you will be able to build up a strong body, and perhaps more weight, if nature considers it good for you. Temporarily, eliminate all heavy starches, also sugars and fats with the exception of a small amount of butter. Send for a special article on the cure of catarrh.

Excessive Hair Growth

Q.: Mary F. writes: "I am a young girl, and have a heavy growth of hair on limbs and arms. In fact, there is a visible hair in practically every pore on my entire body. Will you please tell me what is the cause and how to overcome the condition?"

A.: It is perfectly natural for some persons more than others to have a growth of hair on their limbs. It is foolish to do anything to remove it as long as it covers such a large area, as in your particular case.

Pickles

Q.: J. K. G. asks: "Are pickles harmful to one's health?"

A.: You will notice I do not recommend pickles in my menus. They must be classed as condiments and not as food. If used at all they should be used with a meal containing no starches.

Nervousness

Q.: George B. writes: "My mother is a very nervous woman and has had so much sorrow in the last ten years that she has hysteria and cries until she is so weak she is bedridden for a day or two. Lately a friend recommended her taking bromides and, in fact, got them for her. We do not want her to take "dope" and would like to know about these tablets."

A.: The steady use of bromides is a very serious mistake. Your mother should first get herself in good physical health through diet, exercise, etc., and then consult a good psychoanalyst or psychologist and learn the science and art of constructive thinking.

Dizziness

Q.: E. H. G. asks: "What can be the cause of violent dizziness when lying on the back or right side? Bowels are regular."

Answer: The dizziness may come from high blood pressure or hardening of the arteries. In some cases, plain biliousness is responsible.

A Good Investment

A pair of snub-nosed scissors just for the kiddies is a good investment in many ways. They are not likely to hurt themselves with the rounded points and they are not so likely to borrow mother's pair to cut out paper dolls and use for many things that would remove the sharp edge in a moment.

Dirty Pockets

Before putting house dresses, aprons and sonny's suits into the wash, turn the pockets inside out and brush with a stiff brush. They will be easier to wash and look much better when ironed.

FIGHT DELAYED ON CEMENT LINE

Presenting of Legal Aspects Postponed

Facts to be Given Planners at Next Meeting

Protestants Say Crossing of Tidelands Illegal

Presentation to the City Planning Commission of a statement of facts concerning the legal aspects of the proposed cement quarry and rock-crushing plant for which the Los Angeles Mountain Park Company asks permission to operate in the Santa Ynez Cañyon was postponed until the next regular meeting of the commission, the 10th inst.

The statement, which was to have been prepared by attorneys for the protestants against industrial plants in the Santa Monica Mountains and presented to the commission yesterday, will show, according to its framers, that the plan of transporting materials from the cement plant to the sea by way of a pipe line cannot be legalized under the present laws of the State.

Contending that neither the city of Los Angeles nor the War Department has authority to grant a permit for extending a pipe line across the State-owned and controlled tidelands, counsel for the protestants has asked that further hearing by the commission on the present application be discontinued.

It has been suggested to the Planning Commission that City Attorney Werner be consulted and asked to advise that body relative to further procedure.

Pending a decision on the part of the commission and a possible ruling by the City Attorney further hearings by the commission have been adjourned until the 16th inst., at which time a number of property owners in the affected area have been supoenaed to appear.

YOUNG WIFE LIVES MELODRAMA

Girl-Mother Suing for Child, Relates Dramatic Tale of False Imprisonment by Kin, Escape and Recapture; Court Takes Time to Digest Story

A dramatic recital of how a young mother, confined in a Kansas institution, scaled a twenty-foot wall and escaped to come to California to make a fight for the custody of her daughter, 2 years of age, was given late yesterday by Mrs. Mary Filer, 20, to Superior Judge Wilson, before whom she appeared with the request that her divorced husband, Kenneth Filer, be made to give up the child.

Mrs. Filer came into court asserting that her husband obtained a divorce from her in September, 1927. He was given a decree and the custody of the child, Alice Joyce Filer, she said, while she was confined against her will in an institution in Kansas City.

The young mother told the court she had intended to contest the divorce suit, but just afer her husband had filed it her mother, Mrs. Mary Kelley of Toganoxie, Kan., asked her to come and visit her; that when she arrived her mother and sister took her to Kansas City. On the pretext that they wanted to visit an institution, Mrs. Filer said, she accompanied them, and after she got inside the gate was closed and she found she was a prisoner.

For weeks, Mrs. Filer said, she searched for means of escape. Finally, one night she scaled the twenty-foot wall and escaped. She was free an hour and was preparing to leave for California to fight for her baby when a heavy hand was laid on her shoulder. It was a detective, who took her back to the institution. She remained there fifteen months, she said, eventually being freed through the efforts of her foster-mother.

Filer is contesting his former wife's petition, asserting she was given due notice of the pending divorce action and did not appear to contest the suit.

SUTTER-STREET JOB COMPLAINTS HEARD

Protests against the confirmation of assessments on the improvement of Sutter street between Wicks and Peoria avenues were heard by the Council yesterday and continued until the 16th inst., when property owners complained that the contractor had failed to cut driveways through the curb and had left earth piled upon lawns. Chief Inspector Rook said his bureau will see to it that the contractor makes the improvements in the next week. Meanwhile, the contractor doesn't get his money.

LOVE CRUISE AHORSEBACK ENDS IN JAIL

Couple Who Started But Didn't Elope on Rented Steeds Face Theft Charge

Rental of two horses from the Griffith Park Riding Academy and failure to return them after the abandonment of an intended elopement landed Robert Conway, 22 years of age, of 2744 California street, and Constance Moyers, 21, of 1070 Cumlus avenue, in the Hollywood Jail last night, where they are booked on a charge of grand theft—horses.

The couple obtained their steeds at the riding school early Tuesday morning and started for Lancaster, according to the story related to police. Yesterday morning they reached Saugus. Here the couple disagreed and abandoned the flight. The girl took charge of the horses and started back to Hollywood, while her companion walked. At the Newhall tunnel the horses became unruly, blocked traffic and attracted the attention of motorists, who hurried the pair on their way after a reconciliation.

In the meantime the academy reported the theft of the animals and Detective Lieutenant Jaggers found horses and would-be elopers at the corner of Bronson and Franklin avenues. A police wagon brought the pair to the police station, while the detective rode the horses.

Oil Man's Wife Cites Gay Sea Parties in Suit

John Elbert Elliott, oil man, went on gay yachting parties but didn't take his wife along, Mrs. Lillian F. Elliott complains in her divorce suit, on file yesterday.

Mrs. Elliott also asserts that her husband went with other women to public places, and once she found love letters in his pockets. He told her simple domestic life no longer intrigued him, she charges, and said he preferred women who were merry and gay at all times. He suggested, she further charges, that if she didn't like the way things were going, she could get a divorce.

In asking for her share of community property, Mrs. Elliott lists $300,000 in securities, a $50,000 yacht, a $20,000 airplane and several automobiles. She asks custody of their 12-year-olod son, Jack.

On Saturday the body will be taken to Anaheim, where further services will be conducted at the Roman Catholic Church there. Interment will be in Fairhaven Cemetery, Santa Ana. Mr. Newsome was born in Leavenworth, Kan., forty years ago, and came to Los Angeles in 1922. He was a member of the Eagles Aerie, No. 55, of Leavenworth. In addition to his sister, he leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Newsome of Leavenworth.

MURPHY GIVES UP IN KILLING

Voluntarily Surrenders to District Attorney

Murder of Eddie Bennett Month Ago Charged

Plea Offered That Shooting Was Accidental

Sought for more than a month as the slayer of Eddie Bennett, 34-year-old racketeer, in an apartment at 625 South Bixel street, James Murphy, 31, yesterday brought the police hunt to a close when he surrendered to the authorities and was held in the City Jail on a District Attorney's office complaint charging him with murder.

Tired of evading arrest, Murphy telephoned to the District Attorney's office and, after announcing his name, said he was prepared to give himself up if officers were sent to Slauson avenue and San Pedro streets. Chief of Detectives Tom O'Brien and Investigator Wheeler, both of the District Attorney's staff, went to the designated location and found Murphy, true to his word, awaiting them on the corner.

KILLING CALLED ACCIDENT

He stoutly maintained the shooting, which ended a prolonged drinking party in Bennett's apartment on May 31, last, was accidental. The day before the slaying, he told the detectives, he had hidden a bottle of liquor behind the roll of fire hose in the hall outside Bennett's rooms and when he went to retrieve it on the following afternoon he found a revolver hidden there in its place.

Believing the weapon was not loaded, he said, he entered Bennett's apartment and in a spirit of jest pointed the supposedly empty gun at his friend, at the same time declaring: "I feel like shooting somebody." Whereupon Bennett remarked: "Go ahead, shoot me!" Murphy pulled the trigger twice in rapid succession, he explained, according to the officers, expecting only to hear it click. Instead there was a double report, and Bennett, who had been in a half-reclining position on the bed, fell back lifeless, with a bullet in his head and another in his abdomen.

BOOKED FOR MURDER

After the shooting, Murphy, who is said by the police to have been a bootlegger, fled the apartment, and until yesterday had successfully evaded a police dragnet spread over Los Angeles gangland. He told the officers yesterday that he had not left the city.

O'Brien and Wheeler turned Murphy over to Detective-Lieutenants Hickey and Shannon, who booked him on the murder charge. The accused man is said to have come here several months ago from San Antonio, Tex., and to have been known to police under the alias of James Alexander.

EXECUTIVE NAMED BY BUILDERS

D. H. Merrill Gets Post With Group Fostering Code for Cities

David Merrill, formerly of the firm of Noice & Merrill, structural engineers, Los Angeles, has been made managing secretary-treasurer of the Pacific Coast Building Officials' Conference, with headquarters at 1101 Heartwell Building, Long Beach.

The conference, organized in 1922, is composed of city building inspectors, architects, engineers, contractors, building material manufacturers and dealers, and national trade associations. The principal work has been to compile and encourage the adoption of a uniform building code primarily for the cities of the Pacific Coast.

Mr. Merrill has been employed in the building department of the city of Los Angeles under Chief Inspector Backus. While in business as a structural engineer, Mr. Merrill designed many of the larger buildings in Southern California.

J. E. Mackie, who held the position of managing secretary-treasurer before Mr. Merrill, compiled, with the assistance of the conference and other organizations and individuals, the proposed uniform building code as it now exists in the form of a 1927 edition. The code has been adopted by fifty-three cities and towns on the Pacific slope and in near-by States.

The eighth annual meeting of the Pacific Coast Building Officials' Conference will be held in Portland, Or., September 3 to 6, next.

AIRPORT DRAIN JOB LET

The Board of Public Works yesterday awarded the contract for the first unit of the drainage system at the Los Angeles Municipal Airport. The contract price was $17,230.

DEATH TAKES VETERAN EMPLOYEE OF "TIMES"

PHILIP S. SHANAHAN

Death came suddenly yesterday to Philip S. Shanahan, newspaper man who for more than thirty years was an employee of The Times, at his home, 1557 Shelby avenue, Westwood. After finishing his work Tuesday night he returned home apparently in good health. Yesterday morning he was stricken by an acute heart attack and succumbed before medical aid could be summoned. He was 53 years of age.

Mr. Shanahan's career was replete with interest. As a 10-year-old boy he was a hero in one of Geronimo's last raids. The notorious Apache bandit chieftain had attacked and wounded the boy's father near a neighboring ranch. A burro which the elder Shanahan had been driving escaped and returned home. While the father managed to crawl to Bartlett's ranch, near which he had been wounded, the family was aroused by the return of the burro.

Young Philip was dispatched to the Bartlett place with the news. When he arrived the Indians were attacking the house. The youngster spurred his horse through the midst of the battle and was let into the stockade. Later he crept out of the house under the cover of darkness, past the Indian guards, and rescued his mother and two sisters, taking them safely into the Bartlett stockade.

Shortly thereafter the family moved to Los Angeles. When the Spanish-American War broke out Shanahan was one of the early volunteers from Los Angeles. He returned to The Times after the war and was affiliated with the paper until his death. He was at work and miraculously escaped at the time of the tragic explosion and fire in the Times Building in 1910.

He married a co-worker in the plant in 1912. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Ruth B. Shanahan; a son, Curtis; a sister, Mrs. Dora Caldwell of Los Angeles, and a brother, John J. Shanahan of Los Angeles.

Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p.m. in the chapel of Pierce Brothers' undertaking establishment, 720 West Washington street.

LIVELY SESSION OF TORRANCE COUNCIL

TORRANCE, July 3.—A petition signed by twenty-four owners of property fronting upon Cabrillo avenue, between Carson and Plaza del Ame, asking the purchase by the city of the Pacific Electric right of way along Cabrillo avenue, and the protests of an equal number of citizens furnished a heated City Council session here last night. The filing of the petition followed the action of the Council a month ago in opening negotiations with the railway company for its right of way on Cabrillo north of Carson street, which if the purchase is completed will be paved.

The protestants of the new petition carried their point last night to the extent that the city officials delayed action upon the document for another two weeks, expressing the possibility that it may be continued until after the negotiations now under way are brought to a head.

The city has offered $10,000 for the Cabrillo-avenue right of way north of Carson to Border avenue.

BOY ON BICYCLE HIT BY MOTORIST

Gilbert Laursen, 16 years of age, of 527 West Miramar street, last night was struck by an automobile while he was riding a bicycle at Figueroa and Temple streets. The car was operated by R. Taylor of 1155 Nowell avenue. Laursen was taken to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital where his injuries were found to be a possible broken back, possible skull fracture and concussion of the brain. He was transferred to General Hospital.

PROTESTS DENIED ON DENKER-AVENUE JOB

The paving, sewering and installation of water mains in the Denker avenue and Eighty-seventh street improvement district was approved by the Council yesterday through the denial of all protests against the project. Other projects set for hearing were continued to various dates, among them being Brunswick avenue between Chevy Chase Drive and Rigali avenue, to the 17th inst., Morningside Way between Walgrove and Penmar avenues, to September 3 next, and Raynol street at Reynolds avenue, to the 19th inst.

NEW RULING AT MEXICAN LINE

Identification Cards Needed After August 15

Order of January, 1926, Just Put in Effect

Move by Mexico to Protect Workers

CALEXICO, July 3. — Thousands of Americans who cross the international line at this port of entry each month to patronize the resorts in Lower California will be required after August 15, next, to show identification cards, according to instructions received from the Federal government today and made public at the Mexican immigration office in Mexicali.

Today's announcement puts into effect an order issued in January, 1926, but only enforced during a brief period following that date. The decision to enforce this regulation, it was explained in the message from Mexico City, is to prevent the entrance into Mexico of aliens who cross the line as tourists and then remain there as laborers in competition with Mexican workers. The ruling is interpreted here as being in accord with the general policy of the Mexican government to restrict so far as possible, the employment of foreign labor in the republic.

Jose Santos Godines, inspector in charge of the Mexican immigration office here, stated that he desired to give Americans plenty of time in which to secure their identification cards, and that the order would not become effective at this port until August 15.

In accordance with instructions received here several days ago Americans employed in nontechnical occupations in Lower California will be required to establish residence in Mexico after August 1. Workers classed as technicians and specialists will be permitted to reside on the American side of the line upon payment of a head tax amounting to approximately $20. The new identification cards which apply to transient visitors only must carry the photograph of the applicant and will be issued upon payment of 1 peso, according to the order.

State Aid for Canyon Road

SAN DIEGO, July 3.—That the State will advance $200,000 to San Diego immediately for grading the Rose Canyon highway was the statement made here today by J. P. Baumgartner of the State Highway Commission.

With plans prepared by Fred M. Lockwood, city manager of operation, already provided by the State highway engineers, work of grading is to start immediately. The State will pave the highway as soon as grading settles, it was stated.

In making the announcement Baumgartner said that just as the roads built centuries ago remain monuments to the Roman empire, the roads that are being built in California will remain monuments to the efficiency of the road engineers and builders. This, he said, is not a stretch of the imagination.

Even since the Rose Canyon project became a subject for consideration, he said, no other thought had been in the mind of the commission than its completion and there has been no change. Baumgartner said further that he had no hesitancy in pledging at least for himself that the road to Tia Juana would eventually be made a part of the State highway system. He thought it should be included.

PRECAUTIONS AGAINST FIRES IN MOUNTAINS

REDLANDS, July 3.—Warnings were issued here today by forest officials to the crowds going into the San Bernardino Mountains tomorrow. No fireworks of any kind are to be allowed in the mountains. Cars will be stopped at the forest boundaries and any fireworks or firearms removed. Campers will have an ax and shovel with each car and will be required to get campfire permits.

And most important, there will be no smoking except at places of habitation and resorts. All available rangers will be on hand because the fire hazard will be high, high temperature and low humidity.

FUNERAL OF CHILD VICTIM OF POISON

COMPTON, July 3.—Funeral services for the 13-months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lavelle, 2075 Shauer avenue, were held from the Lady of Victory Church here today. The child died from eating ant poison which had been strewn around the floor of the family residence. According to the death return the little one secured a large amount of the poison, which has an arsenic base, and expired several hours later. The death certificate was signed by Coroner Nance, who held that the death was purely accidental and that no inquest was necessary.

NEW ENGINEER FOR CITY OF BURBANK

BURBANK, July 3.—Howard I. Stites, now employed as field engineer in the western section of Los Angeles county and superivsor of the location of Glenoaks Boulevard extension over the Newhall Hills, will become city engineer of Burbank July 8, it was announced today by City Manager Patterson.

Stites will fill the position now held by T. R. Mini, a city office, which Henry L. Reiger, Patterson's first choice, declined when he was offered a better appointment.

ARCADIA LEGION BUILDING

Post Organizes Association and Starts Drive for Funds

ARCADIA, July 3.—An intensive drive will be launched next week by Arcadia Post No. 247, American Legion, for a Civic Memorial Building fund, Capt. Grady Pardue, commander, announced today.

With the plans completed the post is now in readiness to start an active campaign in soliciting funds to be used in constructing the first home of the Arcadia Legion. The building will be located on North First avenue, just south of Foothill Boulevard, and will be known as the Civic Memorial Building.

To finance construction of the Legion home, a corporation has been formed called the Arcadia Legion Building Association, which is headed by C. V. Covell, past-commander.

As a nonprofit organization and as no stock will be used, certificates will be given to subscribers instead, Pardue said.

Other executives of the association, in addition to Covell, include H. K. Hinsley, secretary; Carl A. Barone, treasurer, and S. M. Murchison, C. H. Schwarzkopf, W. L. Hoffeditz, Walter Best and Pardue as directors.

The Spanish type building will represent a valuation of more than $25,000, exclusive of the land, which was donated to the Legion by the Oakwood Syndicate.

Pi Beta Phi Delegates Visit Studios

PASADENA, July 3.—Discussion of proposed resolutions and recommendations for amendments to the Pi Beta Phi Fraternity constitution was led by Miss Amy Onken, grand president, at tonight's short business meeting of delegates at the Huntington Hotel here. Approximately 1000 representatives of the organization, recognized as the oldest fraternity for women in the United States, will close their biennial convention with election of officers Friday.

Extension work, or the granting of new charters, was discussed and applications of organizations in Canada, Utah and Florida were considered.

This afternoon many delegates were taken on a tour of the United Artists studios and saw Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks working on their latest picture, "The Taming of the Shrew." The caravan continued to the beaches.

A theater party given by the Pasadena Alumnae Club at the Pasadena Community Playhouse tonight included as guests members of the grand council, founders, active and alumnae delegates, province presidents and past presidents of all Southern California alumnae clubs.

ELDERLY MAN DIES FOLLOWING ACCIDENT

POMONA, July 3.—Charles B. Hyde, 87 years of age, of 585 San Francisco avenue, who was struck by an Southern Pacific freight train at the Palomares-street crossing, as he was riding his bicycle to church last Sunday morning, died today from shock and injuries sustained.

Mr. Hyde started across the track as one train cleared the crossing, only to ride directly into the path of another train going in an opposite direction. He was struck and thrown for some distance, sustaining a broken jaw, facial lacerations, and due to his advanced age a severe nervous shock.

Surviving the deceased are his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Hyde, and three sons, Albert Hyde of Clarksville, Iowa; Frank Hyde of Parkersburg, Iowa, and Charles Hyde of Pomona. He is also survived by sixteen grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. He has been a resident of Pomona for the past thirty-two years and was a Civil War veteran, having served with the Third Iowa Battery.

Funeral arrangements are in charge of Disbrow & Knight and will be announced later.

FIVE CANYONS CLOSED DURING DRY SEASON

GLENDORA, July 3.—Taking effect yesterday as a measure of reducing the fire hazard in the mountains during the dry season, five canyons within this immediate district were closed by District Ranger N. H. Petersen, he stated today at his headquarters here.

The areas will remain closed to the public until November 1, and any violators of the ruling will be severely dealt with, Petersen declared.

The areas closed are both the Big and Little Dalton canyons, Roberts Canyon, which is a tributary of the San Gabriel Canyon; Tan Bark Flats, or better known as the west fork of San Dimas Canyon, and Evy Canyon, a tributary of San Antone Canyon.

No fireworks will be allowed in the hills tomorrow, Petersen said, and registrars will be placed at the mouths of all canyons.

NEW LIBRARY TO OPEN AT NORTH HOLLYWOOD

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, July 3.—Orra Monnette, library commissioner, will be principal speaker at the formal opening and dedication of the new library branch that is being made ready for occupancy in North Hollywood Park. The dedication will take place on the 15th inst., beginning at 1 p.m., it is announced by Miss Roberta Bowler, local librarian. It is hoped that Miss Althea Warren, Los Angeles city librarian, who is about to return home from a journey to Europe, will be present at the ceremonies. The new structure is of Spanish architecture. There is a large club room in the south end of the building, which will be used for community gatherings, and the meeting of music, reading and dramatic clubs.

W. T. SESNON WELL KNOWN IN VALLEY

OWENSMOUTH, July 3.—Funeral services for William T. Sesnon, 69 years of age, who died in San Francisco, will take place there. Sesnon was manager of the large Porter estate in San Fernando Valley and well known in valley financial circles. He had been in bad health for more than a year. The Porter estate consists of 11,000 acres in the northwest section of the valley. At one time 1000 acres had been tentatively chosen as an airport site and was given the name Sesnon Field. At the present time the site still figures in negotiations as a possible site for a naval dirigible base.

Police Evade Extra Duties

GLENDALE, July 3.—Chief of Police Fraser's action in refusing to conduct the examinations necessary to secure renewal of automobile licenses for Glendale motorists until he has been specifically instructed to do so by the City Council or by the City Manager has aroused a storm of criticism here, but Chief Fraser maintains that, in the absence of any provision in the city budget for the expense that such a course would entail, he will not detail any of his men to carry out this work. Fraser says that the extra work would cost his department $300 a month. Applicants for new licenses who applied to the police department under the impression that the tests would be given by the local officers in cooperation with State motor vehicle officials were advised that they would have to appear before the motor vehicle department in Los Angeles. Glendale, Long Beach and South Pasadena are said to be the only three cities in Southern California that are not aiding in the work of renewing the licenses, and Chief Fraser contends that duty should fall on the State Motor Vehicle Department.

Woman Escapes Serious Injury

VENTURA, July 3.—Mrs. F. R. Ferguson, wife of a Ventura furniture merchant, escaped serious injury this afternoon when the coupe which she was backing from the curb in front of the Kling Building on Main street locked a wheel with the fender of a Pickwick stage driven by V. McDermott.

The stage dragged the coupe before it was freed, and then ran across the sidewalk, out of the control of the driver, into one of the plate-glass windows in a store. A coach owned by Charles McDermott and a roadster owned by Harold McCloskey of Ventura were in the path of the stage and were badly dented and damaged by the impact.

The passengers in the stage were frightened and shaken, but no one was injured. Mrs. Ferguson was jolted and shaken by the accident and was removed to her husband's furniture store near by.

SERVICE STATION MAN CITY COMMISSIONER

ALHAMBRA, July 3.—The City Commissioners have appointed Clare V. Ward, proprietor of several service stations in Alhambra and Los Angeles, as commissioner to represent the Fourth District. Ward, who succeeds E. G. Dessieux, resigned, had not been previously mentioned in connection with the vacancy and his appointment surprised a large contingent of citizens who had been working in the interests of other candidates. He will be Commissioner of Public Works.

In the reorganization of the commission, in addition to Ward, W. W. Nuzum has been named Commissioner of Finance; John H. Coulter, Commissioner of Supplies; E. E. Burlingame, Commissioner of Public Safety, and Chris Campbell, president, Commissioner of Public Affairs.

OBSERVATION STATION OFFERED FALLBROOK

SAN DIEGO, July 3.—A seismological observatory for recording earth crust movements may be established at Fallbrook if the Board of Supervisors will appropriate $3000 for a suitable building, the board was informed by Dr. Harry Woods of Pasadena, representing the Carnegie Institute in co-operation with the California Institute of Technology. The institute would equip and maintain the station. The proposal went to the budget committee for study while the board is engaged in sitting as a board of tax equalization to consider assessments and shaping of the fiscal budget.

COUNCIL FAVORS RAILROAD

HERMOSA BEACH, July 3.—A resolution indorsing the request of the Great Northern Railway Company to enter Northern California, which is now before the Interstate Commerce Commission, was passed by the City Council here last night. The resolution was adopted following argument advanced by Mayor A. R. Holston to the effect that more railway competition might prove a benefit.

TO DEDICATE MONKEY ISLAND

Bathing Facilities Provided for Pets

Section of Monkey Summer Resort

Newly completed monkey island at Los Angeles Monkey Farms, east of Culver City, which will be dedicated today.

CULVER CITY, July 3.—Dedication tomorrow of the recently completed monkey island at the Los Angeles Monkey Farms, on Washington Boulevard just east of here, where more than fifty simians already have taken up residence on the water-encircled monkey playground, will mark the introduction here of an attraction enjoyed only by a few other communities.

Patterned after the most famous of all monkey islands, that of the Washington Park Zoo of Milwaukee, although smaller, the island here permits the monkeys entire freedom of the mound, a high wall surrounding the encircling canal forbidding escape of the simians. Among other cities to have similar monkey islands are Memphis and St. Louis.

The island inhabitants are of the Rhesus variety, hailing from the northern part of India, this variety being the only swimmers of the monkey family. The Rhesus are said thoroughly to enjoy the water, and since taking up residence on the island they have spent hour after hour diving into the canal from the mound's edge and the limbs of the tall tree rising from the island's center.

W. H. "Bill" Rice, president of the unique simian institution, is making preparations to handle a large Fourth of July crowd tomorrow, the island's dedication being an attraction he thinks will appeal to young and old.

Puncture Vine War Effective

RESEDA, July 3.—County crews under direction of Inspector Renurd Caudron have sprayed virtually all puncture vine growths along streets and roads in San Fernando Valley. Work is to be continued in the North Hollywood district and in the vicinity of Ventura Boulevard. These areas are only lightly infested.

According to workers of the crew, the puncture vine growth is not as bad as this time last year, indicating that previous seasonal wars on the plant pest are having noticeable effect. During the hot summer months the vine may grow to maturity and produce seed in less than a month, members of the county crew state, so it is the intention to spray infested areas several times before the season is over.

In badly infested districts three power sprayers mounted on motor trucks will be used.

DOG ORDINANCE FAILS TO PASS

ONTARIO, July 3.—Ontario's dogs will continue to enjoy the privilege of running loose. Pens and ropes will not be required by hound-owners to keep their pets at home.

Such would have been the case had an ordinance proposed by City Councilman Arthur O. Dillon been adopted by Council. However, when the ordinance came up for final reading and passage Dillon was the only member of the board who voted for it.

I. B. Koller, 328 East D street, a Council visitor, supported Dillon's ordinance, declaring his fish pond, full of prize gold fish, is often raided by dogs with a strong fish appetite. His valued water lilies are also destroyed by dogs diving into his pool, he claimed.

Another dog protester declared he had been compelled to sell his property in the southwest section of Ontario to get away from dogs in his neighborhood who howled without restraint throughout the nights. He said further a pair of his new pants had been removed from his person byl an angry dog, entailing unnecessary clothing replacement cost and embarrassment.

HISTORIC MANSION THREATENED BY FIRE

PASADENA, July 3.—Flames which for five hours threatened to destroy a $100,000 mansion and burn over the historic Kinneloa ranch northeast of this city were brought under control late this afternoon. A knoll divided the fire into two sections, thus saving the Kinneloa ranch house, which contains many priceless art works and antiques. The mansion, owned by L. E. Lockhart, president of the Rio Grande Oil Company, miraculously escaped damage. Flames encircled the building, leaving it surrounded by smoking embers.

The fire was said to have been started when an attempt was made by unidentified persons to "smoke out" a beehive near the Preston rock crusher, near Eaton's Canyon wash. Twenty-five men were immediately dispatched from Angeles forest headquarters here. The Henneger's Flats county crew and a Federal firebreak crew, ordered to the scene, were reinforced by volunteer fighters.

OFFICIAL VOTE CANVASS

SANTA ANA, July 3.—Changing the unofficial totals by only six votes, which were in favor of the "noes," the official canvass of the $16,500,000 flood bond election was completed late yesterday by the County Supervisors, who returned a count of 10,011 yes and 10,443 no votes. The flood-control bonds were thus shown to have been defeated by a margin of 432 votes. The first district returned a majority of 390 against the bonds; the second district gave a favorable majority of 431; the third district had an adverse majority of 619; the fourth district polled a record majority of 1457 for the bonds, while the fifth was almost equally emphatic in its disapproval, the "no" margin there being 1311.

SNAKE FAMILY IS DOING WELL

SANTA BARBARA, July 3.—Gradually growing bolder and more accustomed to inquisitive eyes prying into the privacy of their abode in the reptile house at Santa Barbara Museum of Natural History, seventy-five garter snakes born there a week ago, have been counted by attendants who state they are certain there are at least enough more in the hidden recesses of the stump which they use as their home to bring the number to 100.

A young rattlesnake, known as a "side winder" for its peculiar manner of hitching itself sidewise over the ground instead of the usual mode of crawling, has been added to the collection of snakes.

Three perfect specimens of coast rattlers, ranging from two and a half to four feet in length have also been added to the collection by Harry Schoepf, assistant curator of the museum, who returned yesterday from Los Angeles bringing the reptiles with him.

NATIVE DAUGHTER TO BE BURIED FRIDAY

DUARTE, July 3.—Last rites for Mrs. Laura Adeline Poor, native daughter, 67 years of age, who passed away Sunday afternoon, will be held from Renaker's funeral parlors on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. W. G. Knowlton of the Advent Christian Church of Los Angeles officiating.

The deceased was the first white child born in Duarte and was the widow of the late Richard H. Poor. She had lived in Duarte all of her life until two years ago when she moved into Los Angeles, where she died at her home, 2356 Overland avenue.

She leaves a daughter, Mrs. William Schleifer, and two grandchildren, Stewart and Eleanor Schleifer, of Los Angeles, and a niece, Mrs. David Loomis, of Colton.

Interment will be made in Live Oak Cemetery.

WEBB INSTALLED AS ROTARY CLUB HEAD

VAN NUYS, July 3. —Clive R. Webb, real estate broker, last night was installed as president of the Van Nuys Rotary Club, with Past President G. W. Dickey as master of ceremonies. W. W. Todd was installed as vice-president; J. V. Root, secretary, and Dr. Maynard Rosenberger, treasurer. The affair took place at the Hollywood Country Club on Ventura Boulevard.

ADDITION TO COURTHOUSE

Ventura County to Build $150,000 Annex to House Justice Court and Jail

VENTURA, July 3.—The Board of Supervisors has authorized the immediate excavation of the hill behind the Courthouse on which will rise a $150,000 addition to house a new justice court, Sheriff's offices and jail.

Under the present prospect, the present jail will house the detention home. The new structure, which will conform with the architecture of the Courthouse, will rise three stories from the present ground level of the old building.

On the ground floor will be garage space for twenty cars, contraband liquor storerooms, laundry rooms and grocery storehouse.

On the second floor, which is to be connected with the second floor of the Courthouse by a "bridge of sighs," opening out of the present Sheriff's office, will be a private office for the Sheriff with a bedroom in connection, a large locker and muster room for the deputies, clerical rooms, identification room, hall of records, dark room, showers and lockers for the deputies, a justice court with chambers for the judge and a jury room. Here, too, will be cells for prisoners waiting to be seen by the officers.

At the rear on the second floor is to be a misdemeanor tank to hold forty prisoners. An elevator will connect all floors and there will be a stairway as well. The third floor will be occupied by a jailer's room, booking office, a bedding storeroom, fumigating closet, jailer's and matron's quarters, two cells and dormitories for women prisoners. There is to be ample space for additional cells to be added later. An exercise space is provided on the roof.

That these plans will care for the needs of Ventura county for the next ten years is the belief of the board members.

Suspect Gets Death Warning

SAN DIEGO, July 3.—A fourth death warning with advice to "change your address quickly," was received by Jerry Kearney, released under bond in connection with Agua Caliente murder and robbery today, he reported to police. He received other threats while in jail.

The warning came in the shape of a letter with a San Diego postmark, Kearney stated and was written by a man who evidently had little education as the spelling and punctuation were poor.

"I'm not paying any attention to the warning," Kearney stated. My address is 3559 Villa Terrace and will remain the same while I'm alive."

Mr. Kearney,

Dear Sir: Just a little tip—there is some out-of-town gunmen just arrived in San Diego yesterday with the avowed intention of bumping you off. Take this tip and change your address quickly. This is from a party who knows.

Legion Honors Upland Man

UPLAND, July 3.—John D. Howe, prominent lemon grower and American Legion worker, today received official notice of his appointment by the national commander of the American Legion, as California's representative to the International Fidac committee meeting in Belgrade, Servia, this month to promote a program of world peace.

Fidac is a world-wide organization of war veterans, born of the war with Germany. One delegate has been named from each State of the Union to accompany the national commander of the Legion to Belgrade. Howe and the rest of the delegates will sail from New York on the Leviathan the 28th inst. Howe has been prominently identified with California American Legion work for years.

RESTRICTIONS HALT SCHOOL PLANS

ALHAMBRA, July 3.—Plans for the new elementary school in the Emery Park district, bonds for which were voted recently, have been halted temporarily through a decision of the county counsel that, owing to deed restriction, quitclaim deeds or waivers must be obtained from 1096 property owners involved.

The Board of Education recently decided to purchase twenty-two lots for a school site and plans for the building were ordered drawn. Now, in the opinion of Ernest Purdum, deputy county counsel, restrictions in Emery Park limit building operations exclusively to residences.

Efforts now will be made to secure volunteers to interview property owners and to obtain the necessary legal releases.

COMPROMISE VENTURA COUNTY'S LAW SUIT

VENTURA, July 3.—Jasper Barry is $4955.35 to the good today following almost three years of litigation in the courts, while Ventura county sought to save $57,378.13, claimed by Barry as his percentage on personal property taxes collected by him during one year while he was County Assessor. The matter was compromised by the Board of Supervisors yesterday when Robert M. Clark of Los Angeles, representing Barry, appeared before them. The county, in accepting these terms, agreed to drop the suit, known as the "interest case," against Barry, which had been on appeal in the Supreme Court.

PATROLMAN DISCHARGED

COVINA, July 3.—Fred Ott, for the past year acting night marshal on the local police force, has been discharged by Chief James Saunders, who would make no comment concerning the action.

Succeeding Ott, "Blondy" Mathews has been appointed to fill the same capacity on the staff.

Time Granted Opponents to Furnish Bond

SAN DIEGO, July 3.—Mission Bay causeway opponent having lost their fight in Superior Court to obtain injunction against the structure, have a respite until Monday in which to raise $50,000 bond on appeal from the local court's ruling. Attorney H. C. Gardiner declared in asking for more time to make the bond, adding that it would have been supplied had not interveners favoring the project "threatened" prospective bondsmen. He openly charged his opponents with blocking his efforts to obtain bond.

Judge Lloyd E. Griffin, who adjourned the court with announcement that he would sign findings in connection with his decision Monday morning, declined to reduce the amount of bond. The causeway opponents must provide $50,000 bond if they would obtain stay of execution of Judge Griffin's decision while making appeal to the District Appellate Court. Unless the bond is given, the court's decision will subject the contractor to necessity of resuming work immediately on the $700,000 transbay structure.

Attorneys C. C. Crouch, Hugh Sanders, W. A. Sloane and C. C. Pease, representing the proponents of the causeway assessment district, showed themselves jubilant over their victory. They hope within a few days to see Contractor Bert Noble marshal his men to start building the "short cut" from Crown Point to City boulevards.

Wealthy Man Suicide Victim

SANTA BARBARA, July 3.—Declaring he was going to get a drink and gone from his friends and his chauffeur less than two minutes, Col. A. E. Randle, wealthy Washington (D. C.) summer resident, shot the top of his head off in a barn on a ranch about ten miles west of the city this noon.

The colonel, who was in ill health, had been making arrangements for a funeral "in the event of my death," as he told friends. He deposited $1000 in a bank for the funeral expenses and discussed with a local minister the details of the service.

This morning his chauffeur, M. Blyth, took him for his usual ride to the ranch of his friend, J. Blackley, according to Undersheriff Jack Ross, who investigated the case. On stopping there Col. Randle asked one of the ranch employees where the shotguns were kept. He was told the guns were in the barn. The colonel excused himself from a group with which he had been talking, saying he was going to get a drink of water. He disappeared into the barn and a moment later the report of a gun was heard. He was found with the top part of his head shot off.

DISPUTE AT ONTARIO IS FINALLY SETTLED

ONTARIO, July 3.—The drawn-out, involved problem of disposal of orange pulp and waste from the Exchange Orange Products plant was thought at an end today in announcement from Herbert S. Bailey, plant manager, that the company has purchased sixteen acres of waste land southeast of Ontario upon which the waste matter will be dumped for disposal.

A pipe line is to be installed from the factory to the land next week, Bailey said. An investment of $30,000 is represented in the company's private sewage plant, according to Bailey, which investment was made necessary when the city of Ontario found it impossible to take care of orange waste materials at the city sewage farm. When the pulp was dumped on lots within the city limits residents protested so strongly the practice was ordered stopped.

REAL ESTATE MAN DIES AT REDLANDS

REDLANDS, July 3.—C. H. Wilkins, for a quarter of a century one of the leading real estate men of Redlands, died suddenly at his home on Eureka street today. Mr. Wilkins was stricken with bronchial pneumonia several weeks ago but had made a recovery and for the first time had gone to his office and did some work. On his return home he collapsed and died in just a short time.

He leaves his widow and three daughters, Mrs F. Carl Grassle, Mrs. Harry Knott and Mrs. Rea Igo, all of Redlands, and three brothers, B. L. Wilkins and F. R. Wilkins of Redlands and C. E. Wilkins, of Ohio.

Funeral services will be held at the Methodist church Saturday and the Knights Templar will have charge of the services at the mausoleum.

GIRL FREED IN FATAL CAR CRASH

Evidence Against Radio Singer in Death of Two Held Insufficient

Ethel Gugin, 19 years of age, radio singer, yesterday was released from the County Jail and a charge of suspicion of manslaughter against her dropped at the instance of the District Attorney's office.

The charge resulted from a collision between an automobile driven by Miss Gugin and a Pacific Electric train at Mercury avenue and Huntington Drive last Saturday in which Marie Emma Ingram and Endrea Giovanetti, who were riding with Miss Gugin, received fatal injuries. Albert Serchia, a third passenger, is in the General Hospital in a critical condition from injuries suffered in the crash.

Lack of sufficient evidence to justify prosecution was given as the reason for no further action in the case by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Broker.

At a Coroner's inquest Tuesday conducted into the deaths of Miss Ingram and Giovanetti, the jury held Miss Gugin was negligent. Since the crash she had been confined in the jail hospital due to minor injuries she received at the time.

Goodyear Craft Breaks Records in Blimp Flying

All records for day-after-day flight of lighter-than-aircraft were broken by pilots of the Goodyear airship Volunteer yesterday when the log of the craft was summarized after thirty days of flying over Southern California, it was announced.

The air yacht has been off the ground eighty-three hours and sixteen minutes during the last month. It missed only one day of flying and averaged three hours and five minutes on its daily trips.

Lieut. Karl Lange has been in the Volunteer's cabin sixty-four hours and seven minutes and Lieut. Bud Campbell seventy hours and thirty minutes while they piloted 196 passengers to view Los Angeles from the air and to execute several novel flights and landings to demonstrate the safety and controlling-ease of the craft.

From now on, however, the Volunteer will swing into its primary mission here—that of training pilots for a fleet of giant Goodyear Zeppelins which are to be placed in service to span the Pacific by air, Goodyear officials stated.

JURY WEIGHS HOME DESIGNS

Judging of Entries in National Competition for Coast District Under Way

Selection of the winning designs in the 1929 National Better Homes architectural competition for California and Nevada was begun yesterday when the jury of awards reviewed for the first time the designs submitted.

The session yesterday was merely preliminary to the actual selection. The drawings were hung in the reviewing rooms and carefully studied by the members of the jury. After they were considered by the individual members the jury collectively went around and by common consent eliminated those designs which were obviously out of the running.

ATTRITION PROCESS

This elimination having been accomplished, the drawings were gone over again and again by the jury members as a body and as individuals. By this process the elimination will continue until only a small group remains and the winners will be chosen by vote from this number. Three winners are to be chosen by the jury, representing California and Nevada, each to be awarded $500 in cash. The three winning designs will be sent to New York to compete with the winners from twelve other districts in the national competition, when three prizes of $5000, $3000 and $1500 will be awarded.

An even 100 entrants in this district submitted designs for the local jury to review. In accordance with the competition rules, the designs are for moderate-priced homes. Only architects, architectural draftsmen and architectural students submitted designs. The jury, composed of experts, viewed each drawing with the eye of the professional and it has to be good to withstand the rigid inspection.

SPANISH PREDOMINATES

Although designs for various types of houses were submitted, naturally the Spanish type predominated in this district. To the layman the procedure of the jury was unusually interesting, as they moved from one drawing to another. Some designs were so good that by unanimous and instant agreement they were left hanging for further consideration. And others were so poor that with equal unanimity and alacrity they were taken off the line.

In the early stages even one vote of a juror kept the design hanging for further consideration. When it came down to the final group the elimination was by actual vote and tally. Each juror voted on the designs in the order of his preference. The votes were tallied and those receiving the highest number of counts, indicating that they were furthest down on the individual lists, were temporarily removed. This method is followed in the local chapter of the American Institute of Architects.

Having eliminated a large number in their first session the jury will resume its deliberations and continue its selections next Monday afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock.

TO WITHHOLD WINNERS

David J. Witmer, chairman of the jury of awards, announced that in accordance with final instructions from the national headquarters of the competition no announcement of any kind as to the names of the winners in the local competition can be made until all local winners from all districts have been sent to New York and the national winners chosen. This step is necessary to preserve the anonymity of the successful designers through the national competition.

Other members of the jury besides Mr. Witmer, are: Myron Hunt and Pierpont Davis, architects; Preston Wright, realtor; K. P. Lowell, builder, and Edgar Harrison Wileman, interior decorator.

Council Orders Poll on Valley Street Project

After renewing an argument which consumed nearly an hour of its time on Tuesday, the Council yesterday ordered the calling of an election on the 23rd inst. for the grading and paving of Devonshire street, leading out of Chatsworth in the San Fernando Valley.

E. R. Young, attorney for the B. F. Porter Estate, a 16,000-acre tract surrounding the proposed improvement, urged delay, stating that possibly his clients will repair the roadway. Representatives of Chatsworth, however, said they want no promises, but an election, feeling sure they can score a two-thirds vote and bring about the construction.

The estimated cost is $140,000. The vote was 11 to 4 for calling the election.

GIRL'S BODY WILL REACH CITY SUNDAY

Services to be Conducted for Virginia Llewellyn Next Tuesday Afternoon

Accompanied by members of the family the body of Miss Virginia Llewellyn, who died in Berlin on June 20, last, of scarlet fever, will reach here Sunday morning at central station. Funeral services will be conducted next Tuesday at 2:30 p.m. from the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Cemetery, Glendale.

Miss Llewellyn, who was 22 years of age and a graduate of Marlborough School, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Edgar Llewellyn of 335 Muirfield Road. With her parents and a younger sister Dorothy she left here early in the year for a tour abroad. She was stricken in Berlin and died after a brief period.

Two uncles, William and Reese Llewellyn, rushed to her bedside from Bad Nauheim, and sailed with the other members of the family on the return to America.

SUSPECT TO BE HELD FOR CHICAGO POLICE

Arrested last night on a check-passing charge, Fritz W. Cawest, 28 years of age of 2041 North Vermont avenue, was identified as a man wanted by the Chicago police, according to Detective Lieutenants Crowley and Posner of the forgery detail. They picked up Cawest, who is proprietor of a restaurant at Sixteenth street and Grand avenue, on complaint of issuing a check without sufficient funds. The detectives looked up his fingerprint record and found that they matched those of a man mentioned in the Chicago Police Bulletin, August 12, 1926, as wanted for robbery. Crowley and Posner say that Cawest admitted his identity. He is being held for the Chicago authorities.

HISTORIC TREE TOPPLES OVER

Ancient Sycamore Said To Have Sheltered Serra Dies of Old Age

An ancient monarch of a sycamore tree, venerated landmark in the Santa Monica Bay district, which legend couples with Father Junipero Serra when he rested in its shade while journeying northward to establish missions, toppled from the weight of years Tuesday night at Colby and Wyoming avenues, Sawtelle, on a tract owned by Mrs. Mary K. Rindge.

The trunk, hollowed by disease and innumerable brush fires in the past, before West Los Angeles became a great residential area, apparently was unable longer to support the great spread of branches extending more than fifty feet.

There was no high wind or other natural enemy of old trees to cause the fall. The historic old sycamore simply died when it had reached an age estimated at 200 years.

ANTIQUES TO BE SEEN IN COURT

Art Objects Involved in Suit to Give Mute Testimony

Frenchman and Local Man in Double Litigation

Each Declares That Other Got Best of Trade

Antiques which Jules Ratzkowski, Paris art collector, declares have a value running into thousands of dollars because of their age and rareness, but which W. J. Hole, their purchaser, says are only modern reproductions of the real thing, will be exhibited in the court of Superior Judge Archbald before the end of the trial of the suit in which both the collector and Hole are asking damages.

"We intend to bring a number of the antiques which are involved in the suit into court, backed up with evidence to prove that the pieces are merely modern productions of antiques that are in existence in various places in France," Attorney Guy Crump, who with Attorney Walter S. Clayson of Corona, representing Hole, declared yesterday.

VALUES DENIED

"While some of these pieces are wonderful works of art, they have no intrinsic value as antiques which Hole thought he was getting when he paid Ratzkowski $50,000 in cash and traded him nearly 200 acres of fine land in Riverside county, for the collection," the attorney added.

One of the pieces in particular which will be on view in the courtroom is a rosewood cabinet, asserted to be the masterpiece of the great cabinet maker Reisner of the eighteenth century and valued at $30,000. Hole contends it is a fine cabinet but has no value as an antique.

Represented by Attorney Paul Vallee, Jules Ratzkowski is in court asking damages in the sum of $89,978 of Hole, contending that he got the worst of the trade. He asserts that the land he received is worthless for farming and does not have the value as represented.

Hole declares that he got the worst of the deal and has filed a cross-complaint in the suit asking $150,000 damages.

VALUES DEFENDED

Hole took the witness stand in his own behalf yesterday and under the questioning of Attorney Crump said that he first saw the collection of antiques at the Hall of Arts Studio in Hollywood and that he made Ratzkowski the offer of $50,000 in cash and $50,000 worth of land for the collection. The offer was accepted, he said.

"I wouldn't have considered any sort of a deal had I not believed that the things were genuine and real antiquities," Hole declared.

"Before the deal was closed I took Mr. Ratzkowski to see the land in Riverside county. I did not tell him it was worth $600 an acre, but I did say that was the price I would put it in in the trade."

The art collection purchased by Hole is asserted by Ratzkowski to be a part of the great collection once owned by Prince de Conde, which was in the Chateau de Biarge and handed down to Fernando de Conde, a descendant of the Prince and now living in France. Attorney Vallee asserts that he will offer documentary proof that the collection is just what his client represented it to be.

PROBATION PERIOD ENDS FOR WOMAN

Federal Judge Releases Mrs. Stagg, Convicted of Mail-Fraud Scheme

Marguerite Powell Stagg yesterday ended her dash into the solving of mysteries when United States District-Judge Henning discharged her from probation. Mrs. Stagg was placed on probation July 2, 1928, after conviction on a charge of using the mails in a novel scheme to defraud.

It was brought out in court that after the death of Helen Evans St. Clair, motion-picture actress, June 6, 1927, Mrs. Stagg wrote to Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Daniels, wealthy New York parents of the young woman, saying she had information that the actress did not commit suicide as reported. She wrote that the message should be delivered in person and asked for money enough to make the trip to New York. She was found guilty in February 1928.

Yesterday S. S. Hahn, her attorney, stated that Mrs. Stagg was a cousin of the deceased and was devoted to solving the supposed mystery of the death of the actress. Because of the conditions the court discharged Mrs. Stagg from probation.

Lasky Arrives With Plans for Talking Films

Bringing plans for the immediate production of a number of talking, singing and musical pictures for the new film season, Jesse L. Lasky, first vice-president in charge of production for Paramount, arrived in Los Angeles on the Chief last night.

Accompanying him on the trip were William S. Paley, 28-year-old president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, and Harry M. Goetz, assistant treasurer of Paramount. The film organization recently purchased a half interest in the broadcasting system, as announced at the sales conventions in the East and Middle West.

This marks Lasky's first visit to Hollywood since his European trip. Regarding his survey of conditions abroad, Lasky declared that "sound pictures are conquering Europe and it will be only a matter of a few years before they are dominant throughout the civilized world."

PARKS CELEBRATIONS' HUB

Independence Day Festivities of Patriotic Groups to be of Wide Scope Today

Scores of Fourth of July celebrations, to be conducted today in and near Los Angeles, have been arranged by various patriotic, civic and fraternal organizations. The City Council appropriated $1000 to be used for festivities at Lincoln Park, Westlake Park, Hollenbeck Park and Venice.

Probably the largest program, in point of attendance, will be at Lincoln Park. More than 100,000 persons are expected to attend the celebration which will include athletic events starting at 10 a.m., a band concert and speaking program in the afternoon and fireworks in the evening.

OTHER CELEBRATIONS

Other celebrations of interest will include the racing and athletic program at the Banning American Legion Speedway this afternoon, a polo game at Uplifters' Field, a picnic for former New Mexicans at Bixby Park, Long Beach and a baseball game at Wrigley Field.

All Irish people are invited to attend the fourteenth annual picnic of the Sons and Daughters of Gael at Rose Hill Park today. The program will include sporting events, with prizes for winners, and addresses by Thomas H. McGovern and Frank J. Barry. An instrumental and vocal program will be given by Paul Ferrish, Bertha H. Arena, Lauretta Beems, Agnes Joyce Fossati and Ruth Thompson. Dancing will be enjoyed in the evening.

PICNIC PLANNED

Members of the Independence Birthday Club will celebrate America's birthday with a picnic and program at Municipal Picnic Park, Redondo Beach. More than 500 members and their friends are expected to attend.

Extra cars and busses will be operated on all lines all day today, according to announcement by officials of the railway and bus companies.

The fire and police departments have issued special warnings to the public in regard to the use of fireworks, especially near dry grass and frame buildings.

Fourth of July concerts in five city parks were announced by the Park Board yesterday as follows:

Westlake Park—Band concerts in the afternoon and evening. Patriotic address and evening display of fireworks.

Lincoln Park—Band concerts in the afternoon and evening and evening display of fireworks and patriotic address.

South Park—Afternoon band concert.

CHIEF MAY EXPLODE CONTRABAND FIREWORKS

Fire Chief Scott was authorized to explode some fireworks yesterday by the Fire Commission, when he was instructed to destroy a considerable supply of Roman candles, skyrockets, "snake dances" and other stuff, including some giant firecrackers, seized a year ago as prohibited articles under city ordinances. He has not yet decided whether to set fire to them or dump them in the ocean.

The Fire Commission granted more permits for Fourth of July fireworks displays which will be held various parts of the city. These included a display by the Wilshire Business Men's Association at Westlake Park, a display at Bel-Air by the Frank Meline Company, one by the Uplifters' Club, the Westport Beach Club at Playa Del Rey and the Lick Pier Company at Venice.

Permits for displays tonight already had been granted to the American Legion for opening its new quarters on Highland avenue, the Los Angeles Country Club and to the Lincoln Heights Improvement Association for its program at Lincoln Park.

While at some places daylight fireworks will be displayed during this afternoon, most of the permits are for tonight.

FIREWORKS FINES ASSESSED BY COURT

Arrested by members of the fire department for selling illegal fireworks, Joseph W. Geers of 720 East Fifth street, George LaPiana of 5427 Central avenue, and Librado Fernandez of 920 East Sixth street, yesterday were given the option by Municipal Judge Ambrose of paying a $25 fine each or of spending five days in jail.

Because the money obtained for the fireworks sold was not obtained by the firemen who made the arrests, Deputy City Prosecutor McDonald filed charge of possession instead of sale of illegal fireworks against all three men, and all entered pleas of guilty.

James W. Ford of 336 North Avenue 51, charged with a similar offense, was given until Monday to enter his plea to the charge when he requested a delay from Judge Ambrose.

SUPPOSED GANG VICTIM RULED DEAD

Joseph Porazzo, Missing Since May 15, Declared Legally Demised

Gangland's revenge on a victim who had incurred the enmity of the underworld was recognized in the courts yesterday after testimony by Police Detective L. E. Sanderson, who told Superior Judge Crail that the police believed Joseph Porazzo had been "taken for a ride" and shot to death, although the body never has been found. Judge Crail thereupon declared Porazzo legally dead.

Mrs. Irene Porazzo was in court on a petition to be appointed administratrix of an estate consisting of $55,000 in cash and property worth $50,000. She was represented by Attorney Charles W. Cradick, who asked that Porazzo be adjudged dead so Mrs. Porazzo could take charge of his affairs.

The detective told how police had found Porazzo's blood-spattered automobile in a lonely spot two days after he disappeared on May 15, last.

Efforts to locate the body of Porazzo were renewed yesterday by his parents and relatives when a plea was made requesting that any information in the possession of anyone that might lead to a recovery be fowarded to the father, Antonia Porazzo, 3028 Darwin avenue.

After recounting the disappearance the plea says: "Forty-eight days now have passed and to this day no clew to the whereabouts of him or his body has been found. Joe Porazzo was always a good son to his parents; never gave anyone any trouble; never harmed anybody, and because he was in a business making money he aroused the jealousy of many. Among these were some his family thought were his friends.

"If the parties or party responsible for his disappearance or death, or anyone else, will give his parents some information as to where his body may be found they will see that it is given burial."

HUNT FOR FRANKISH RENEWED

Police Push Search After Woman Fails to Identify Sick Man as Husband

Search for Charles Frankish, 81 years of age, was renewed yesterday by the Missing Persons Bureau after Mrs. Charles Frankish failed to identify Abel Armstrong, held in the psychopathic ward of the General Hospital, as her missing husband.

Armstrong, before his hospital commitment, had been living in the home of W. V. Spencer of 942 Lante street, Baldwin Park, and is said to bear close resemblance to the missing man. Armstrong says he is 75 and a former resident of Toronto.

Mrs. Frankish has taken up her residence at the Astor Arms Apartments, 801 South Gramercy Place, from where she will continue her search for her husband, whom she married five years ago, Capt. Allen, in charge of the bureau, said the woman informed him.

Mr. Frankish first disappeared in October, 1926. Later it was discovered that European passports had been issued to him and a son. The son, officers said, made the European trip, but no record of Frankish ever having used his passport could be found by investigating officials, Allen said.

Council Orders Two New Jobs

An ordinance calling for the creation of the job of investigator for Council President Sanborn was ordered drawn yesterday after Councilman Lewis asked "what is to be investigated." The job is to be exempt from civil service and pay $200 a month.

While the ordinance is going through the hopper President Sanborn is authorized to make the appointment. He also will have a secretary, exempt from civil service, at $175 a month.

NIGH-SUIT TESTIMONY ENDS

Procession of Witnesses in Divorce-Court Battle Tell Conditions in Home of Film Director

Testimony in the divorce case of William Nigh, film director, whose legal name is Emil Kruschke, was brought to an end in Superior Judge Dooling's court yesterday afternoon, after a procession of witnesses had describd conditions in the Kruschke household, where Mrs. Citta Kruschke, former chorus girl, according to the testimony, was not welcome.

The case will be argued by the attorneys, Frank S. Adams and Lester Hardy for the defendant, and Ward Chapman for the plaintiff, Friday morning.

ACTRESS NAMED AGAIN

Mrs. Kruschke was quite frank in stating that her husband was very fond of Jeanne Jarvis, a motion-picture actress, named co-respondent in a former divorce suit filed by Mrs. Kruschke, and over whom Kruschke and Edward Usher, Jr., football player, fought a moonlight engagement in Laurel Canyon.

"I tried to make my husband provide a home for me, but he said he couldn't, because he had to support Miss Jarvis, and we both probably wouldn't want to live in the same house," Mrs. Kruschke testified. "He told me he hoped I would get a divorce and stop worrying him."

Kruschke, on the stand, admitted that his wife annoyed him considerably, but said he gave her no cause for such actions.

CHINESE TESTIMONY

Lin Tong, Chinese cook for Kruschke, provided a bit of what motion-picture directors call "comic relief" when he was summoned by the defense.

Mrs. Kruschke, recalled to the stand, denied that she was acquainted with a Mr. Heckheimer of New York, who was described by counsel as "the dancing attorney." Nigh had said his wife had used intoxicating liquor at a party and had danced with the attorney in question.

SPLIT-DELIVERY PROTEST WINS

Shipping Board to Withdraw Sanction of Practice

Privilege Granted East Ruin to Coast Industry

Manufacturers' Plea Joined by Western Groups

The United States Shipping Board has tentatively decided to withdraw the sanction it gave in November, 1927, to the practice of split-delivery of freight shipped in carload lots by steamship from the Atlantic seaboard, according to word received last night by the Associated Jobbers and Manufacturers. This organization was the first to protest against the practice and subsequently joined by the San Francisco, Seattle and Tacoma chambers of commerce, the Western Confectioners' Traffic Association and the Conference Steamship Lines.

Under the procedure carload lots arriving by ship from the Atlantic seaboard could be split up into smaller lots upon arrival at a Pacific Coast port and then forwarded in these smaller lots to separate destinations, either on the Coast or in the interior, at the carload lot freight rate.

EAST PREFERRED

At a hearing on the matter in San Francisco it was urged that this practice not only was unduly preferential to the Atlantic Coast shipper, but was virtually ruinous to Pacific Coast manufacturers and distributors.

It was pointed out that the Atlantic Coast shippers could assemble carloads and deliver them in small lots of freight all along the Pacific Coast at a lower cost than that paid by a Pacific Coast shipper to send a similar small lot from one Pacific Coast city to another.

RAILROADS, TOO

It also was pointed out that the continuance of the practice would probably lead to the transcontinental railroads putting a similar plan into effect, as a measure of self-defense against the cheap water competition. Therefore, the opponents of the practice argued, they were in danger of losing their interior trade along with their Coast trade.

At the hearing in San Francisco witnesses appeared representing Pacific Coast industries employing 55,000 persons and embracing an investment of $450,000,000, and they testified their business had fallen off from 5 to 90 per cent during the short time the practice had been in effect.

JOHN DID NOT EAT INSECTS

The locust eaten by John the Baptist were probably not insects, but the fruit of the carob tree, the dried pods of which are the locust beans sold as food for cattle. The carob tree is sometimes called the honey tree, from the sweet pulp contained in its pods while they are fresh.

COMMON SENSE

Any person KNOWS that a piece of BUSINESS property LEASED that pays NOW a good interest on investment, is better, SAFER than any piece of INCOME property. The AVERAGE income property will always DEPRECIATE, whereas BUSINESS property in 90 times out of 100 will APPRECIATE.

Anyone knows that BUSINESS property bringing in $3000 a year is a better buy than any FOUR FLAT bringing in $4000 a year.

We offer BUSINESS PROPERTY on a corner leased to SAFEWAY, Meat Market, grocery, DRUG STORE, ETC., $30,000.

Owner wants home to $20,000. Take our advice & TRADE in your NON-PRODUCER while you can. Remember, SHAKESPEARE said, "There's a time in the affairs of all men, which taken at the FLOOD, leads on to FORTUNE."

Owners ONLY please apply.
